NO DAMAGE TO PANAMA CANAL

Reassuring Statement Issued by Col. Goethals, the Chief Engineer of Isthmian Canal Commissoin.

BIG GATUN LOCKS WITHSTAND SHOCKS

Earthquake of Tuesday Night Most Serious Since American Occupation—Disturbance of Local Character.

PANAMA, Oct. 2.—"Absolutely no damage was done by last night's earthquake to any part of the canal."

This signed statement was issued tonight by Col. Goethals, chairman and chief engineer of the Isthmian canal commission.

The canal officials are pleased tonight over the fact that within the space of one week the Gatun locks have been called upon to respond to two supreme tests, and in each case proved equal to the demand.

On Friday last it was demonstrated beyond question that the lock-operating mechanism works perfectly and that vessels can be locked through at will. While the earthquake shocks were not figured on, the event came opportunely, inasmuch as it has showed to the world that it will take more than the ordinary earthquake to cause irreparable damage to the lock structures and dams.

Inspection of Locks

Lieut.-Col. Sibert went over the greatest part of the Gatun locks in person today and satisfied himself that there had been no damage. Col. Goethals was assured early that the canal works had suffered no injury and before noon on the isthmus practically everyone knew the fact.

The President of Panama, Dr. Belisario Porras, personally visited the canal works this afternoon and learned that the earthquake had left the canal unharmed.

Reports received up to late tonight from different parts of the isthmus show that the disturbance was purely of a local character, with the greatest intensity in Los Santos Province, 120 miles from this city.

A late dispatch from the city of Los Santos estimates the damage there at $25,000, and in the entire province at $100,000. Twenty-six tremors were counted in Los Santos City. No lives are reported lost, with the exception of one death from fright.

The history of earthquakes in Panama in the last two hundred years shows that disturbances in the neighboring republic of Costa Rica are rarely perceptible in this part of the isthmus, and that a shock in this locality does not usually extend to Costa Rica. Furthermore, the movement generally reaches its maximum intensity in the Province of Los Santos.

Not Source of Danger

Canal experts always have pinned great faith to the fact that no quake ever has occurred strong enough to shake down the famous Flat Arch which has stood in Panama for 178 years. The consulting board of engineers appointed in 1909 to go over the lock plans, cited this fact and one of the conclusions of the board was "We do not regard such shocks as a source of serious danger to any type of canal on the isthmus."

While a number of seismic disturbances have been reported here since the American occupation, the earthquake of last night was one of the most serious of all. In 1904 a severe shock destroyed several buildings in the western part of the republic. Other movements were recorded in 1909, 1910 and 1912. None of these caused uneasiness.

The city is quiet tonight and the general feeling is that all danger has passed. Few sought their beds after being driven from their homes through fear last night, and the great majority remained in the public parks and open places until morning.

Flooding Culebra

Water was let into the Culebra Cut from Gatun Lake through four 24-inch pipes under the Gamboa dyke at 9 o'clock yesterday. At the present rate of flow the cut between the Cucaracha slide and the Gamboa dyke, a distance of about five miles, will be filled to a depth of fifteen feet by October 10, the date set for the destruction of the Gamboa dyke.

Since the suspension of steam shovel operations, the Cucaracha slide has extended completely across the cut to the 72-foot level, so that when the water is admitted to the probable lake level of sixty-eight feet on October 10, it can not pass this barrier. It is purposed to ditch through the slide and the resulting rush of water is expected to carry away a large portion of the obstacle.

Ontario Agent in London Says Next Year's Grant Will Be Available on November 1

LONDON, Oct. 2.—Mr. Reid, agent for Ontario in London, referring to a Toronto cable to the effect that there will be no more assisted passages this year, declares that there is some misapprehension. It is true that the $5,000 appropriation has been exhausted, but next year's grant will be available on November 1. Meanwhile, domestic servants will be assisted, but laborers are advised to wait until Spring.

Mr. Reid is actively preparing for the Winter campaign, and two special officers are coming to conduct lecture tours in the rural districts, and these will be supplemented by others.

Mr. Reeks, former agent, who has been appointed to a professorship at Guelph College, sailed on the Tunisian.

FLYING UPSIDE DOWN

French Aviator Travels With Motor of His Aeroplane Running Full Speed

PARIS, Oct. 2.—Pegoud, the French aviator, achieved new fame yesterday by flying at Buc upside down with his motor running full speed. Heretofore, this has been thought impossible, on account of the danger of an explosion. He also did five consecutive loops on a single descent from only 1,300 feet altitude, reascending without alighting.

On the next descent, he did three loops consecutively with his motor running. He then descended rapidly to the ground with astonishing short circlings.

Another of his feats yesterday was descending from a great height for ten minutes without touching the levers of his machine or in any way controlling his aeroplane until just before he struck the field, when he altered the angle of descent to make an easy landing.

It is announced that this was Pegoud's last effort at experimental or other flying before his departure on a tour of the chief cities of Europe and America, during which he will demonstate the stability of the Bleriot machines.

RATEPAYERS PASS SOOKE MEASURE

By-Law to Authorize Expenditure of Additional Million and a Half Secures Majority of Votes Polled.

The Sooke Lake Supplementary By-Law to authorize the expenditure of an additional $1,500,000 on the Sooke Lake water works system, was yesterday submitted to the ratepayers of the city and was passed by a majority of 839. The vote in favor of the measure totaled 1,250 and that against, 411. There were two spoiled ballots and three blanks. The law required that the measure secure but a bare majority.

The result of the vote was a surprise even to those who favored its passing. Yesterday afternoon, in view of the small turn-out of voters, the fate of the measure was considered doubtful, and the result of the vote came as more or less of a surprise. The vote, considering the large amount of money involved and the excellence of the weather conditions, was a small one. The total number of names on the list is 6,739, while the number of ballots cast was but 1,666.

Now that the by-law has been passed the City Council is in a position to undertake consideration of the letting of the contracts for the concrete and steel pipe lines, the telephone line and steel trestles, bids for which have been in the hands of the water commissioner for the past two months. The city's consulting engineer, Mr. Wynn Meredith, has already reported upon these bids, and his report will be brought before the Council at an early date. The engineer recommended that the contract for the concrete flow-line from Sooke Lake to Humpback reservoir be awarded to the Graff Construction Company, of Seattle, at a figure of $308,160; that for the steel pressure line from Humpback reservoir to the city, to Messrs. Macdonald, Godson & Company, for $444,993; that for the telephone line to Mr. F. H. Folsom for $8,625. In the case of the steel trestles, the bids of the Canadian Northwest Steel Company at $24,908, not including cost of erection, was the lowest, but Mr. Meredith suggested that in view of the offer of the Graff Construction Company to erect concrete structures for $40,000, that that firm's offer be accepted if the contract for the concrete flow-line is let to it.

Priests Held by Mexican Rebels

EL PASO, Texas, Oct. 2.—A ransom of 15,000 pesos has been demanded by the rebels of Sonora for the release of three Catholic priests—Fathers Portela, Soto and Caribald, who are under arrest at Hermosillo, Sonora, according to advices received at the Mexican consulate. They were arrested several days ago when thy protsted against a demand made by the rebels against the Catholic clergy.

Plunges Over Embankment

MONTREAL, Oct. 2.—Four people were seriously injured, one probably fatally, when a motor car owned by Mr. Arthur Bastien, Outremont, plunged throughwa wire fence and over a twenty-five foot embankment at Cote des Neiges tonight. The car turned turtle, imprisoning the four occupants underneath.

RUSHING WHEAT TO THE MARKET

Over 26,000,000 Bushels of Grain Passed Inspection at Winnipeg in First Month of New Crop Year.

TOTAL SHIPMENTS VALUED AT $22,250,000

Fine Weather Has Facilitated Threshing on the Prairies —There Is No Sign of a Blockade.

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 2.—Over 26,000,000 bushels of wheat have passed inspection for the first month of the crop year of 1913. The value of this at regular market prices as $22,250,000. The average price per bushel was nine cents lower than last year, when inspections for September were 5,500,000 bushels, valued at $5,000,000.

Figures for the past month constitute a record for speedy marketing which may not be touched for some years to come. All conditions have been extraordinarily favorable. Bright, fine weather, with hardly a break, has resulted in an unprecedented early harvest and great progress in threshing. The transportation companies have put forth extraordinary efforts, and so far there is no sign of a grain blockade. Back of this has been the desire of Western Canadian farmers to pay their debts as soon as possible to merchants, banks and implement dealers.

Reflected in Clearing House

The unprecedented and rapid movement of grain through Winnipeg evidenced itself today, when the manager of the local clearing house gave out his weekly statement. The figures indicate an advance of about 30 per cent over the corresponding week of 1912, and an increase of 50 per cent over the corresponding week of 1911. Bankers state that the advance will be marked and continuous through the month of October, although the proportionate increase will probably not be as great. Payments for grain have been on an immense scale, as compared with last year, as the figures show. The statement was as follows: Week ending October 2, 1913, $39,851,856; corresponding week in 1912, $30,561,513; corresponding week in 1911, $26,138,775.

A certain indication of the passing of the tight money scare is the brisk demand for farm lands all over the West. One of the big land companies, with headquarters in Winnipeg, reports more inquiries for Saskatchewan farm lands in the month of September than during the past twelve months.

OTTAWA, Oct. 2.—Hon. Frank Cochrane, Minister of Railways, will hold a railway route map hearing at Ottawa on October 10.

NEW DATE SET FOR CONFERENCE

Meeting of Provincial Premiers at the Federal Capital Has Been Postponed Until October 27.

NO REASON GIVEN FOR CHANGE IN PLANS

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 2.—Sir James Whitney, Prime Minister of Ontario, and Sir Lomer Gouin, Prime Minister of Quebec, who recently called the inter-Provincial conference for October 20, have agreed to postpone the conference until October 27. Today the various Prime Ministers were notified to this effect.

No official reason is given for the change of dates, but it is considered probable that the postponement was owing to the return to Canada in the early part of that week of the Governor-General. The conference will be held in Ottawa.

Ontario Mine Sold

IS SUING NEWSPAPER

Returning Officer for Chateauguay Has Entered Action Claiming $10,000 Damages

MONTREAL, Oct. 2.—Legal trouble has already started over the Chateauguay election, though the candidates have only just been selected and holding day is not until Saturday, October 11. The trouble is over the appointment of Mr. J. E. C. Bumbray as returning officer and on account of it Mr. Bumbray, through his attorney, Mr. Gauthier, has issued a writ of $10,000 damages against Mr. Albert Pigeon, editor and proprietor of The Bulletin.

The plaintiff claims that several days before September 18, he was officially appointed returning officer for the Chateauguay election, and that this fact was generally published, particularly in the newspapers before September 18. In The Bulletin edition of September 18, the plaintiff alleges, he was attacked professionally and personally, causing damage to his reputation, and that it was intimated that as he, the plaintiff, was Mayor of Chateauguay, the election could not be conducted honestly because being Mayor he would use his influence to get votes in favor of one of the candidates. Mr. Bumbray is a well-known Montreal barrister.

RAILWAY BILL IN ALBERTA HOUSE

Amendment Is Submitted by Opposition Outlining Its Policy Regarding the Great Waterways Road.

EDMONTON, Alta., Sept. 2.—The debate on the proposed agreement with Mr. J. D. McArthur, for the construction of the Alberta Great Waterways Railway was continued in the legislature at the afternoon and evening sessions today.

Just before 6 o'clock Dr. Stewart, Lethbridge, submitted an amendment to the Premier's motion for second reading of the Waterways Bill, which he said embodied the policy of the Opposition upon the subject.

The amendment provided that the bill be not given a second reading until the Government lay before the House all correspondence, etc., setting forth the negotiations in any way affecting the difficulty in which the Province is involved over the Waterways question, a draft copy of the proposed agreement with Mr. J. D. McArthur, a draft copy of the indemnity bond between the Government and the banks, and all route maps, books, references and other material called for by the rules of the House when a private company applied for a city charter.

The amendment also provides that before the second reading be given, Mr. McArthur appear before a select committee to explain in detail all the agreements entered into by him in any ways affecting the Waterways settlement.

The speaking this afternoon was confined to members of the Opposition.

Amendment Defeated

EDMONTON, Alta., Oct. 3.—After a debate, which lasted till nearly 1 o'clock this morning, the Opposition amendment to the motion for a second reading of the Waterways Bill, in which they asked for fuller information, was voted down. The count stood 36 to 17 against the amendment, every member being in his seat.

The debate on the main motion will be resumed by Dr. Blow, South Calgary this afternoon.

FINANCES OF THE COMMONWEALTH

Sir John Forrest, Treasurer of the Federal Government, Delivers His Annual Budget Speech.

INCREASED GRANT FOR DEFENCE PURPOSES

MELBOURNE, Oct. 2.—Sir John Forrest, treasurer of the Federal Government, today delivered his budget speech, which had been awaited with especial interest in consequence of his recently-reported intention of "drastically pruning the defence estimates." The facts are that he has increased them by over £1,000,000, bring the amount per capita of population to 22 shillings and 6 pence. The precise amount now allotted to the defence is £7,750,000.

The budget is noteworthy for the decline shown in revenue and increment.

There is annual excess expenditure of £300,000, which is met by a new taxation in lieu of the loan at one time proposed for railways, post offices and defence.

Public Debt Increased

Sir John called the attention of the House to the fact that during the last eleven years there had been an increased public debt of Australia. Loans amounting to £20,000,000 had been floated in London and £65,000,000 in the Australian Commonwealth. The Treasurer alluded to the tendency now being shown to invest in Government securities instead of industrial enterprises, and ascribed it to the friction between capital and labor in the industrial sphere.

Sr John foreshadowed a future revision of the land taxation the reforms proposed including a uniform valuation in the Commonwealth, both state and municipal.

URGE RELIEF FOR RURAL LABORERS

British Land Commissioners Publish Summary of Report Which Will Be Basis of Legislation.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—A summary of the first part of the land inquiry report, on which will be based the next step of the Government's programme of social legislation, has been made public, and shows the pressing need of relief for rural laborers.

The report, which is made under the direction of Right Hon. David Lloyd George, Chancellor of the Exchequer, states the wages now paid do not allow the level of physical efficiency to be maintained. The question, it is urged, is the more pressing because since 1900 prices have risen disproportionately to wages.

Objection is shown to an increasing degree by laborers to the wages being partly paid in kind. The laborer feels the long hours and the absence of holidays nearly as much as the lowness of wages. The loss of wages through wet weather is a strong subject of complaint.

A surprising feature of the report is the absence of any reference to the much-discussed minimum wage of $5 a week.

TERMINAL ELEVATOR

Work on Government Plant at Port Arthur Practically Completed—Capacity, 5,000,000 Bushels

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., Oct. 2.—Work on the new Government elevator at Port Arthur is practically completed, and the first two cars of grain to be received were unloaded today, to be used in testing the scales. This is the first terminal elevator to be constructed by the Government, and it is expected that it will be running to full capacity in a week's time. The storage tanks will hold 5,000,000 bushels.

Windfall for Treasury

Death duties amounting to $1,050,000 will be paid over to David Lloyd George, Chancellor of the Exchequer.

ATTACKS DUBLIN LABOR LEADER

Mr. T. Healy, M. P., Denounces Methods Which Have Been Introduced Into the Struggle in the Capital.

DECLARES REIGN OF TERROR EXISTS

London Times Says Events Seem to Be Moving Toward Industrial Crisis in Great Britain.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—Timothy Healy, M.P., made an attack yesterday on the methods of James Larkin, in stating a case for the masters at Sir George Askwith's Court of Inquiry into the Dublin labor war. In the last five years, he said, Dublin had been subjected to more strikes than during its entire existence as a capital. The strikes have been brought about by methods which make trade unionists ashamed, and the masters would be forced to combine to preserve what little was left of the wreck of trade and, commerce in Dublin.

Larkin, he added, acted the part of Napoleon, his men obeyed him as implicitly as the French soldiers obeyed their Emperor, and it was that that had brought about these strikes. All employers had been the object of Larkin's attacks and humbled masters had worn out their marrow bones kneeling at his shrine.

The present condition of affairs, he said in conclusion, was as finished a system of tyranny as had ever been started in any country, except, perhaps, the reign of terror in Paris. In fact, he did not know of any reign of terror so complete as this present one.

Crisis Imminent

Events seem to be moving rapidly toward a grave industrial crisis.

"It may," says The Times, "be postponed for a time, but recent indications forbid the hope that it can be altogether averted, and signs pointing to a speedy development are increasing. One of the most ominous is the fact that yesterday the Master Cotton Spinners' Confederation decided to close all their spinning mills from October 25, until the dispute now in progress at one mill in Bolton is settled. This dispute has nothing to do with wages or other standing conditions. It is the result of a demand on the part of the spinners that an overseer, to whom they object, should be discharged.

"The circumstances differ in detail from those prevailing in Dublin, but in practice the main point is essentially the same. In both places employers are compelled to make a deliberate stand against practices which render the conduct of their business impossible. This decision is not caused by trade unionism, but by the breakdown of trade unionism, and its occurrence in the cotton trade particularly is of very grave import."

Lockout in Lancashire

BOLTON, Eng., Oct. 2.—Until the meeting of the Federation of Master Cotton Spinners on October 10, no further steps will be taken to secure the return of the employees in the Lancashire mills strike, which has caused a great lockout. It is feared, however, that the suspension of all yarn spinning before that time will throw 650,000 persons, directly affected, out of work. Possibly as many more are indirectly dependent upon the industry.

The employees maintain that the master spinners are animated by a desire to bring about a stoppage because of price of cotton, which makes the profits small, but the employers assert that the principle of the maintenance of their right to control their own mills is at stake. On the other hand, the unionists deny any desire to adopt syndicalism and assert that the executive has done all possible to secure the Bolton strikers return to work.

Utilize Radium Gas

LONDON, Oct. 2.—The Radium Institute announced tonight the discovery of the fact that the emanation of gas given off by radium is as efficient for curative purposes as radium itself. A method was also discovered whereby the gas can be distributed throughout the country. The gas, although given off constantly, does not weaken the parent substance. The institute has only four grammes of radium in its possession, but the use of the gas will increase its utility enormously.

The Queen Charlotte copper mine was making considerable progress when she left on the 4th ult.

Died—In this city on the 29th, 1863, Thomas, youngest son of Mary and William G. Norris, aged 4 years.

Dangerous—Yesterday while Mr. Randell of this city was out walking on Saanich Road, a crazy Indian came out of the bush a few feet ahead of him and started firing a musket at him. Travelers are requested to be on the watch for the Indian.

TROUBLE AMONG SEATTLE JUDGES

Contempt of Court Cases Result in Friction—Several Prisoners Released on Writ of Habeas Corpus.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 2.—After Superior Judge John E. Humphries had sent twelve men and six women to the county jail today for contempt of his court because they had signed "a resolution of defiance," in which the judge was denounced for his injunction against street speaking, a consultation of judges of the superior court was held, and Mr. Thorald Siegfrid, an attorney who had previously complained to the Bar Association of Judge Humphries' excessive use of the writ of injunction, was sent for by the judges and requested to apply for a writ of habeas corpus for the prisoners.

Mr. Siegfried applied to Judge Everett Smith for the release of Mr. Glenn Hoover, attorney for the Free Speech Defence League and former Assistant Attorney-General of Washington, and Mr. C. M. Hodgson, one of the signers of "resolutions of protest" against Judge Humphries' injunctions, and they were released on their own recognizance. Both men had a short time before been sentenced to pay fines for contempt, and, in addition, Hoover had been "forever debarred" by Judge Humphries. Hodgson's fine was $400 and his jail term six months. Judge Smith said he would release all the prisoners who sought freedom on writ of habeas corpus.

Entitled to Hearing

Judge Smith said: "It seems to me that the petitioners are clearly entitled to their liberty pending further hearing. They have raised a question on which they are entitled to be heard. There is no occasion to allow these men to lie in jail pending such hearings."

Judge Humphries, when he heard of the consultation of his fellow-judges, made a statement denouncing the judges. He said, in part: "My fellow-members of the bench have conspired against me and have fought me from the first. They were against me in my campaign, and they are against me now. Judge Smith had no right to shove in on this."

Attorneys Disbarred

At this morning's session of the court Mr. Hoover, attorney for the prisoners, was fined, disbarred and ordered removed to jail as soon as he began to speak. Attorney Wells, another defendant, was disbarred and fined without being permitted to speak a word in self-defence. Mrs. Humphries, secretary of the Socialist local, was dismissed with a small fine, the judge saying he did not wish to humiliate a member of his own Scottish clan. Mrs. Wm. McNally stood up with a baby in her arms. The judge said he did not wish to send a baby to jail. "Never mind," the woman said, bitterly; "the baby is as guilty as I am." She was fined $100 and sent to jail with the baby and a little boy. The woman's husband also was fined $100 and sentenced to jail. Six women and two children are in the county jail tonight.

Judge Humphries said he would take the rest of the cases up tomorrow. He said that the supreme court, which has issued two writs against him, has no jurisdiction.

TURKEY MOVING TROOPS

Reported to Be Sending Soldiers, Disguised as Irregulars, Toward Kavala and Salonica

LONDON, Oct. 2.—The fear of war with Turkey is growing in Athens, but the Porte is attempting to allay the feeling by announcing her intention to hold islands in the Aegean subject to the decision of the powers. It is claimed, however, that Turkey is moving troops disguised as irregulars, towards Kavala and Salonica. Turkey's irregulars are also reported today in possession of Dedeagatch, which has been evacuated by Greece.

Another source of uneasiness for Greece arises from the warmth of the congratulatory messages which have passed between Sofia and Constantinople.

A despatch from Belgrade says the fight attending the recapture of Dibra was sanguinary beyond any thing which has heretofore occurred in the Balkans. The Albanians defended the place from house to house, while walls toppled about them in the streets. They fought with any weapons that came to their hands. Even the Serbs admit that the Albanians fought like heroes and left Dibra a mass of smoking ruins. The Serbs are advancing, and a decisive battle is expected near Prizrend.

Anarchy prevails in Albania, where the Provisional Government disavows all connection with the uprising against Servia.

PARIS, Oct. 2.—L'Intransigeant today says it learns Turkey has been informed that the French Government cannot discuss the projected loan to the Turkish Government until the present Turco-Greco difficulties have been settled. This attitude of France, the newspaper believes, will hasten a solution of the dangerous situation and will remove the latest obstacle to peace in the Balkans.

Baronet Dies in Paris

PARIS, Oct. 3.—The body of an Englishman, which has been removed to the morgue after his death from an overdose of ether, has been identified as that of a young English baronet, Sir Frederick Williams. He was found unconscious in apartments on Boulevard Mont Martre by a friend, who had him taken to a hospital, where he died. Sir Frederick, who was about twenty-five years old, rented his apartments six months ago, decorating them with costly draperies, rare plants and incense burners. Neighbors say that he received a number of strange visitors, most of them foreigners.

FOREIGNERS IN DANGER

Chinese Bandits Reported to Have Killed Child Who Fell Into Their Hands

PEKING, Oct. 2.—The American legation here received a report today from the Vice-Consul at Shanghai stating that an American child had been killed and other foreigners were being maltreated by Chinese brigands at Tsao Yang.

The legation fears that the Chinese Government troops are neither capable nor zealous enough to accomplish the release of the American and Norwegian missionaries in the hands of the bandits at Tsao Yang, and that ransom alone can save the lives of the foreigners still in captivity. It is believed that the ransom demanded may not be heavy as Chinese ideas in monetary matters are not extravagant.

By the efforts of the legations and consulates the missionaries have been kept out of unsafe districts during the past two years, but the missionaries were not restricted from going to the Northern part of the Province of Hu Pen, which heretofore has not been considered dangerous.

At Hangkow, Gen. Li Fu Cheng, vice-president of the republic, stated that everything possible is being done. Nearly 3,000 Chinese troops are advancing on the town of Tsao Yang.

A formal communication to the American consulate reported that the missionaries, Rev. Mr. Stoktad and Rev. Mr. Johnson were proceeding from Sang Fu to Tsao Yang, but their expedition evidently failed as the Rev. Mr. Stoktad telegraphed today as follows:

"The robbers still hold Tsao Yang, where they compel the Chinese citizens to guard the walls. It is feared that the surrounding force will be insufficient to prevent the bandits from escaping. The little son of Rev. Harman Fauske, of the Lutheran Brethren mission, has been killed. A foreign rescuing party is again proceeding to Tsao Yang."

A telegram from Chung King says that the Province of Hze Chuen has agreed to pay the troops of the Province of Kwei Chow $100,000 if peace is assured. The Kwei Chow troops originally crossed the border when the Southern part of the Province of Hze Chuen revolted. They captured and held Chung King and other important cities until the present, in spite of the fact that the loyal Government troops operating in the Province of Hze Chuen also have defeated the revolutionists.

PREPARING FOR ANTARCTIC TRIP

British Expedition Headed by Mr. J. F. Stackhouse Will Leave Next Year for King Edward Land.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—Preparations are far advanced for a new and important British Antarctic expedition under the command of Mr. J. Foster Stackhouse, nephew of the famous physician, the late Sir Jonathan Hutchinson. Mr. Stackhouse was intimately associated with Capt. Scott, and his objective will be King Edward the Seventh's Land and the unknown area to the east of it.

King Edward Land was discovered by Capt. Scott in 1902, but he did not land there, and no man has ever trodden its soil.

For the voyage, a special boat, the Polaris, has been built in Norway, according to designs approved by Nansen, Capt. Scott also saw the plans and made suggestions regarding them.

According to present arrangements, the expedition will start from the Thames about August 15, and enter the ice at latitude 70 degrees south, and longitude 100 degrees west. It will winter in the pack ice and stay, if necessary, a second or third Winter.

The return journey will be made by way of the Panama Canal. Mr. Stackhouse himself has never been to the Antarctic, but he has had a good deal of Arctic experience.

The Polaris is built entirely of teak and oak, and is specially strengthened to resist ice pressure. In the bows she is over nine feet thick, and on the beam she has a thickness of two feet. The Polaris is fitted with engines of an indicating horsepower of 400, and has on her trials given the satisfactory speed of 10.25 knots.

She is the first vessel built for exploring purposes which has accommodation for members of the staff in state-rooms, ten of which are fitted, giving single berths for ten persons. She is also fitted with harpoon guns. The Polaris is 148 ft. 6 in. long between perpendiculars, has a beam of 25 feet, and draws 15 ft. 6 in. by the stern. Electric light is used, and this is so wired as to give no cause for fear of fire by the fusing of the wires. Her storage accommodation is very extensive, and she can carry a very large supply of coal.

MORE PRACTICAL WORK IS NEEDED

Sir William Osler Urges Reforms in the Training of Medical Students—Would Reduce Number of Lectures.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—Sir Wm. Osler, regius professor of medicine at Oxford University, in his address at the re-opening of the medical school at St. George's Hospital yesterday, denounced the existing system of training medical students, especially the lecture and examination features.

Sir William contended that the work of the students from the day they entered the school ought to count for qualification and that the students ought not to be under the continual fear of examination. He said the Chinese system of education, which is directed to a single end, the passing of examinations, shows perfectly the blighting influence of examinations and how they sterilise the imagination.

Work in Hospitals

"The great chasm between examination and examination," he continued, "is shown by the statistics of aspirants to the Royal College of Surgeons. Half of the entrants fail, yet these are the very pick of the students. The lectures ought to be reduced. The day of the lecture is past. It ought to be an offence on the part of a senior student to attend the lecture.

"In the case of inefficient students, parents ought to be told after a year or two that they will never make good doctors. There ought to be no written papers at the final examination. Watch the man handle a patient. Fifteen minutes at the bedside is worth three hours at the examination table. The students need that incubus of examination lifted from his soul. We make the study of our profession an intolerable burden by examinations and the enormous expansion of the subjects of the curriculum."

The address was greeted with loud cheers.

CANADIAN LOAN IN LONDON

Outcome Regarded as Satisfactory—New Zealand Likely to Become Borrower

LONDON, Oct. 2.—Fifty-seven per cent of the new Canadian three million sterling loan at 4 per cent is left on the hands of the underwriters. This result is about what was anticipated here and is regarded as satisfactory under the circumstances. The price, which before the announcement of the results was at a quarter point premium, has now receded to a half-point discount. Now that Canada is out of the way, New Zealand is likely soon to become a borrower on the London market, but probably at a much lower price.

Underwriting arrangements are in progress for the arrangement of an Alberta Provincial loan, the amount of which is $5,000,000, at 4½ per cent at 95. The existing 5 per cent debentures loan, aggregating over $7,000,000, was quoted yesterday at 94.

SEEKING NEW TREATY

Japanese Government Suggests Negotiations for Commercial Agreement With United States

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 2.—Officials here are inclined to believe that the prospect of a new tariff bill and not the controversy over alien land legislation is responsible for the suggestion in dispatches from Tokio that a new commercial treaty may be negotiated between Japan and the United States.

It became known today that at an early stage in the negotiations over the California legislation, there was some discussion of a proposal advanced from the Japanese side that if the constitutional treaty did not affirm the right of Japanese residents in the United States to hold land on even terms with the citizens of other nations, the omission should be corrected by amendment. This suggestion did not in any way abate the claim of the Japanese Government that the action of the California Legislature was in violation of the treaty, but was apparently held in reserve as an alternative measure.

If it is the intention of the Japanese foreign office to bring this phase of the matter again under discussion, as has been reported from Tokio, the State Department has not yet been informed of the fact.

RICE CROPS DAMAGED

Floods in Eastern Texas and Western Louisiana Cause Heavy Losses—Railway Traffic Interrupted

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 2.—Flood conditions in Southeast and Southwest Texas and Western Louisiana showed improvement with the cessation of rain in some sections. Most of the streams which have been out of bounds, have ceased rising, and at San Antonio the river is falling rapidly.

Reports came today that streams were falling. It is in the rice fields of Eastern Texas and Western Louisiana that the heaviest loss will be felt. Near Lake Charles, La., it is estimated that 75,000 acres have been flooded, entailing serious damage. Railroads have been hard hit, many steel bridges having been washed away, and thousands of yards of track destroyed. Connection with the East is still interrupted.

Improvement was made today in telegraph and telephone communication, but normal conditions have been restored. The lumber industry has sustained heavy damage. Eight persons are known to have been drowned.

An instrument has been invented in Germany which gives to the blind the power of distinguishing differences in the intensity of light through the auditory nerves.

INSURANCE CHIEF IS ENAMOURED OF WEST

Mr. G. W. Wilson, of New York, Predicts Great Influx to This Section of United States Capital.

Mr. George W. Wilson, vice-president of the Equitable Life Assurance Company, with headquarters in New York, is of the opinion that the investing eye of the continent of America is focussed upon what he terms the "Northwest section," in which is included British Columbia and Vancouver Island. This opinion he vouchsafed to a Colonist representative last night upon arriving in the city in company with his wife.

"This country," he said, with an embracing wave of his arm, "is the centre of the greatest activity that the world has ever seen. During the past few years it has risen from the bewildering nebulae of the wilderness to an organized state that rivals anything in Christendom, and before many more years are past I would not be surprised if it seriously challenged the centres that the world has acknowledged for so long a time. Things are happening here today, the end and scope of which no one can reckon, and we who are in the financial business, and who, in a measure, are in closer touch with the industrial heart of things than others, but dimly foresee the final development of all the vast resources and possibilities that are still hidden away in this wonderful territory. What cynics may say to the call of the West, or the lure of the West, has, it has been aptly called, financial men have no scruple about confessing their partialty for it. This may or may not be new; as a matter of fact, it has been a growing tendency for some time, and while it is still in an immature state, the tendency is very apparent to anyone with practised eyes.

"And in that connection let me say that the United States, as well as Great Britain, is deeply concerned in the movement. At the present time there are millions of dollars of American money invested in the Canadian West, and I know personally that many more millions from the same source will be operating here in the next few years. I don't know what you think of it here, but in America we think it is splendid, and my personal point of view is that it is the best thing possible, both for Canada, the United States and Great Britain, because it tends to amalgamate their interests. In a word, I think Canada has done more, and will do more, to preserve harmonious relations between Great Britain and the United States than all the treaties that could be thought of. It is a common ground of investment for both peoples, and investment, in these industrial days, means sentiment and friendliness.

"If I might say a word as vice-president of one of our biggest insurance companies, I would remark that we regard Canada as one of the great pivots of future international relations. We, as a company, are largely interested in it, as are many other big American houses; we believe in it implicitly and are staking our faith in it in a manner that defies criticism. There may be many reasons why this should not be so, but to me they are all stuff and nonsense."

Was Astonished

Diverting the conversation into another channel, Mr. Wilson began to speak of the Prairies, through which he has just passed. "As an American," he said, "I was astonished the other day in the city of Winnipeg, actually astonished. I had been making a call upon Mr. Bury, vice-president of the C. P. R., learning something of the actual working conditions of grain transportation. He conducted me into the great yards of that grain centre, and showed me 1,400 loaded cars passing through on their way to shipment at the lake ports. Just think, 1,400, exactly 400 in excess of the cars that pass through Chicago, Minneapolis and Duluth combined. I was more than astonished; I was amazed, and as I continued my trip westward, my amazement grew. It is two years since I was on the Pacific Coast, and the difference I noted in the cities of Victoria and Vancouver set me wondering what it was all leading to. I am wondering still.

"With the conditions on the Coast I am in close touch. We have branches right across the Dominion, and consequently know all about it, but I would not venture to predict the limits of growth and development of such places as this. In a brief period the Panama Canal will be open, and whatever it may do, it will most certainly contribute powerfully to the development of the Coast. It will cheapen transportation very considerably, facilitate immigration, bring you nearer to the markets of the world, and generally centralize your industrial factors. When I consider what has been done without this agency at work, I hesitate to suggest the possibilities of the future, but that they are great, inestimably great, cannot be for a moment doubted."

Mr. Wilson says he is making his trip combine business and pleasure. While renewing acquaintance with places he has not seen for several years, he is at the same time attending to the better establishment of the company he represents throughout its agencies in the Dominion.

WINNIPEG WILL ASSIST

Orange Lodge Offers to Raise Regiment of 500 to Aid Men of Ulster

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 2.—Winnipeg Lodge L.O.L., No. 1, has passed a resolution, which will be forwarded to Sir Edward Carson, advising him that it is ready to raise a regiment of 500 drilled men in their fight against Home Rule.

The resolution praises him for his splendid fight against Home Rule, and says that there are a large number of men in Winnipeg ready to return at any time to fight for the cause.

"The financial end of the matter is now in the hands of a special committee," said J. Bailey tonight, "and a copy of the resolution and a letter informing him of our intentions was mailed to Sir Edward Carson tonight."

NEWS OF THE CITY

Chapel Service — The Pemberton Memorial chapel service next Sunday morning at 10:30 at the Jubilee Hospital will consist of morning prayer, hymns and a short address.

Provincial Resignations—According to The Provincial Gazette for the current week, His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council has been pleased to accept the resignations of Mr. Alfred S. Hood, of Rivers Inelt, as a stipendiary magistrate for the county of Vancouver; and Mr. John Cartmel, of Nelson, as a stipendiary magistrate for the county of Atlin.

New Officers Elected—At a special meeting of the local circle of the King's Daughters on Wednesday afternoon prior to the annual general meeting, the election of the officers resulted in Mrs. L. H. Hardy being appointed district secretary, and Miss M. Leitch, treasurer. The district secretary has heretofore managed the work of both secretary and treasurer.

New Companies—The following companies have been granted certificates of incorporation by the Provincial Government: B. C. Office Equipment Co., Ltd.; Carstens Goldstone, Ltd.; Courtenay Condensed Milk Co., Ltd.; Fulton Brothers, Ltd.; Newcombes, Ltd.; Qualicum Beach Development Association; R. C. Purdy, Ltd.; Society of the Salmon Arm General Hospital; Vernon Carriage and Automobile Co., Ltd.; and Western Builders, Ltd. Richard Haworth & Co., Ltd., were granted a license as an extra-provincial company.

Succumbs to Injuries—Mr. Kenneth Bond, a resident of Qualicum district and well known in Victoria, died in the Nanaimo Hospital from the effects of a bullet wound accidently self-inflicted on Monday last. Mr. Bond had wounded a coon and in attempting to club the animal to death with the stock of his gun the weapon was discharged, the bullet entering the unfortunate man's groin and passing through into the pelvis. On Tuesday the injured man was taken to the hospital for treatment but his injuries were so severe it was found impossible to save his life.

Trial at Vancouver—An order directing that the trial of Mr. Israel I. Rubinowitz on the charge of intimidating some Nanaimo miners shall take place at Vancouver, instead of Nanaimo, was made by Mr. Justice Morrison in supreme court chambers. The application for change of venue was made on behalf of the Crown by Mr. A. D. Taylor, K.C., who asked that the place of trial be changed to New Westminster. A similar order was made in the case of W. H. Moore and Walter Pryde, who are charged with Mr. Rubinowitz and for whom he appeared as counsel.

Business Improving—Prince Rupert and the Northern part of British Columbia is picking up in a business way, and the financial stringency which affected all of the Western country to a more or less degree is easing off, according to Mr. J. A. Kirkpatrick, a well-known Northern man, who is down on a business trip. The fact that things are becoming better in a business way, Mr. Kirkpatrick said, was exemplified in the first exhibition of Northern British Columbia resources, recently held at Prince Rupert. The exhibition was a success in every respect.

Revival Services—At the Centennial Methodist Church, Gorge Road, revival services, beginning Sunday, October 5, and continuing every night, except Saturday, until Sunday, October 19, will be held in the church. Rev. J. W. Hedley, M. A., B. D., pastor-evangelist, will have charge of the services. Sunday services will be held at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m., and Mr. Hedley will address the bible classes at 2:30 p.m. on October 5. Week night services will commence at 7:45 o'clock. Mr. Sedgman and Mr. Bryant will assist as soloists. The public of the city are cordially invited to these services.

Panama Exposition—British manufacturers are taking an active interest in the Panama Pacific Exposition, and will be well represented in exhibits, despite reports to the contrary, according to Mr. W. G. Sleeman, correspondent of The London Illustrated News, who is here after a conference with the exposition officials at San Francisco. Mr. Sleeman says the work upon the exposition buildings is progressing rapidly and several buildings are practically completed. European expositions, which have been frequently held during the last few years, have somewhat discouraged exhibitors, however, he says, but the British manufacturers will be well represented at San Francisco.

Sad Tidings—A telegram conveying the sad news that his father had passed away suddenly in his home town of St. John, N. B., was received yesterday by Alexander McDermott, of this city. The passing of Alexander McDermott, sr., came on the day which he had selected for his departure from St. John for Victoria. It was the intention of Mr. McDermott to spend another Winter in this city with his son. The late Mr. McDermott was born in Ireland and was 79 years of age. He left his old home in his early boyhood, and came to this country, settling in St. John. He was closely identified with the shipping of that port, and his death will remove a prominent figure in that city. Three sons and one daughter survive, including Frederick, of Vancouver; John, of St. John, and Alexander, of this city; and Annie, of St. John.

Yorkshire Society Entertains—A meeting and social of the Yorkshire Society was held last night at the Moose Hall, at which an exceptionally large number of people were gathered. The programme consisted of a cornet duet by Messrs. Barraclough and Hayward; song by Mr. J. Wood; Mrs. Hirst rendered "A Rose in the Bud," and Mr. Fred Richardson, "There's Something in the Seaside Air." A cornet solo by Mr. Hayward was greatly appreciated, as was the solo "Youth and Love," by Mrs. Fowler. Mr. Hirst ably officiated at the piano. An address was delivered by the president, Mr. Winsby, and the pleasant evening was brought to a close with whist and refreshments. The society hopes to hold two dances every month during the Winter season. Mr. John Wood, assistant secretary of the society, will be pleased to receive the names of any desirous of joining the society.

THE WATER BY-LAW

By a decisive majority those who went to the polls yesterday pronounced themselves in favor of the by-law authorizing a further large expenditure on the Sooke Lake waterworks project. All classes in the community will join in the hope that this emphatic expression of confidence in the statements of the civic authorities that the scheme is, or can easily be placed on a sound basis, is fully justified. The result of the vote should spur them to renewed activity towards meeting this hope and expectation. Everyone will desire that future developments in respect to the question of a water supply for the rapidly growing city of Victoria will show that we have been guided with wisdom and foresight on the course we are taking.

INTELLIGENT OPTIMISM

A ten minutes' ride in a motor car or fifteen or twenty minutes in a tramcar will take you to the centre of The Uplands, the scene of a very remarkable illustration of far-sighted and courageous enterprise as well as of intelligent optimism. The Uplands is a business proposition, but it is also a demonstration of the faith which some people have in the future of this part of the Province and of what can be done by the judicious expenditure of money in turning to advantage the natural attractiveness of the surroundings of Victoria. Hence it has an aspect not purely commercial, and is a proper subject of comment.

The men who have put money into this enterprise are not Victorians. They came here, saw the opportunity, were quick to realize the advantages of it, and prompt to invest. In land and improvements this property will represent an investment of several millions, but the result will be the creation of an ideal residential area. Nature did a great deal for the Uplands in the first place. She provided it with a varied and charming waterfront. She gave it a fine, sheltered expanse of sea. She raised the land in a series of terraces rising in all two hundred feet at the highest point. She varied the contour of the surface in a hundred different ways. She planted scores of majestic oak trees. And all these advantages she placed in a situation from which there is an outlook that cannot be surpassed. With this for a foundation, capital employed talent to turn it to the best advantage, and the result is The Uplands.

That is all we intend saying on this point, except to add that to Mr. D. M. Rogers, who has charge of the enterprise for the owners, very much of its great success is due. The chief purpose of this reference is to point out that what has been done at The Uplands can be repeated in many other places in this vicinity. The Hudson's Bay Company owns 640 acres adjoining this fine property, and plan to develop it at an early day upon broad lines. Other places might easily be mentioned in this connection. There are in The Uplands, as shown in the sales list, only 124 lots, varying in size from a little over half an acre to over two and a half acres. A number of dwellings have already been erected, and it will only be a short time before all the lots will be occupied. It is, therefore, only the beginning of high-class residential sub-divisions. One of its greatest values is that it sets a standard for projects of this nature. Directly and indirectly The Uplands means more to Victoria than can easily be foreseen.

THINGS WE DO NOT PRINT

Occasionally someone sends in an item or a long extract from some newspaper, with the suggestion that "it will do to fill up." There is not much difficulty in "filling up" a newspaper. The great difficulty is to decide what not to print. It is the effort of The Colonist to appear before its readers each morning with a clean and wholesome class of news. Readers generally have very little idea how much available matter is sacrificed to carry out this idea. There is not a night on which we do not receive over the wires reports of murders, assaults, divorces, suicides or some scandal. Unless there is some special reason why these should be published, they are promptly consigned to the waste-paper basket. We think our readers appreciate the fact that no head of a household ever feels it necessary to look through the columns of this paper to see if there is anything in it which his children ought not to see. There are some persons who think a paper is dull if it strives to be decent by avoiding needless particulars of crimes committed near at home, omitting references to most crimes committed elsewhere and eschewing scandals altogether, but we are not catering for the approval of such people.

To our way of thinking, the class of matter which we exclude is not news. We have never subscribed to the idea that the doings of the underworld or of disreputable people in high life are the matters of chief public interest. We do not hold to the doctrine, not infrequently held in some newspaper offices, that crime and scandal are per se news. Circumstances may make them so, but, prima facie, they should receive, to our way of thinking, just as little publicity as possible. We have picked up one after another several exchanges brought in by today's mail. Prominent on the first page of each one of them is the story of some crime or some suggestive tale made conspicuous by staring headlines. The Colonist could print plenty of that sort of "news," but it does not, and it is not going to.

DAIRYING ON THE ISLAND

Colonel Wilkie, of the Imperial Bank, expressed surprise at the inadequate attention paid on this Island to dairying, in view of the fact that conditions here are so very favorable to that industry. They are more favorable than he or most people know, because of the remarkable freedom of cattle on the Island from tubercular troubles. This may be true in great measure to the mildness of the Winter climate, which renders the housing of stock in close stables unnecessary.

We would like to add something to what Colonel Wilkie has said upon this point, which has quite frequently been referred to in these columns. There can be no part of the world where dairying can be more advantageously carried on than on Vancouver Island. Climatic conditions are highly favorable to cattle. Grass grows luxuriantly for a large part of the year. Fodder crops thrive. We have in mind corn, mangolds and the like. There ought to be no difficulty in growing green feed to tide over the dry months, and in storing an abundance of ensilage and roots, for Winter use. Of course, if dairying is to be an industry it must be carried on in a business-like way.

BRITAIN AT THE EXPOSITION

A London dispatch to The San Francisco Chronicle states that definite action has been taken in London which may lead to the United Kingdom being officially represented at the Panama Exposition. The dispatch says that there is evidence of a growing opinion in England that it would be a mistake for the country to be misrepresented at an event that will emphasize the opening of a new era in the world's commerce. An organization called the British Committee-Panama Exposition has been formed. Sir Thomas Lipton is said to have inaugurated the movement, and the committee has opened elaborate offices in Trafalgar Square. There is evidence that considerable headway is being made. The committee hopes to induce Lord Rothschild to take its chairmanship.

All Canadians will be glad to hear that this effort is attended with success. We would not like to see the Mother Country unrepresented at this Exposition. It would look too much like the abandonment of the commercial prestige which she has so long held. The suggestion has been made that the Board of Trade did not display any great desire to have the manufacturers exhibit, and that the disinclination exhibited by the latter was not wholly uninvited. This is probably only a mere guess, but, even if there is some foundation for it in fact, we venture to believe that, if a little strong pressure is brought to bear, the Government would speedily see its way clear to reconsider its action.

VICTORIA BABIES

An observant citizen asks for an explanation of the very obvious and delightful fact that a very large percentage of Victoria babies, that is children under three years of age, are clear-skinned, bright-eyed and altogether wholesome and attractive. Possibly several reasons might be given, but we surmise that the chief is that young children can be kept out of doors at any season of the year and have plenty of good, clean sea air wherewith to fill their young lungs. If this is the chief explanation, then we venture to say that Victoria has in its climate an asset of even greater value than most of us have supposed. In addition to this abundant out-of-door life, little children, when in the house, can have plenty of fresh air. Do the people of Victoria appreciate what it means to be able in the hottest nights of Summer—that is if we have any hot nights—to feel sure that their children can sleep in comfort? No mother has even to wonder how she can keep her baby cool at nights. Do they appreciate what it is for the little ones that their bedroom windows need never be wholly closed on the coldest Winter nights? There are people, who have a dread of the night air and carefully close every aperture by which it can get into a bedroom. They make the greatest mistake. The best place to sleep in Victoria any time of the year is out-of-doors, but as this is not always convenient, give yourself and your children plenty of fresh air. The climate is responsible, we are very sure, for the beautiful babies.

CREDIT TO THE PRESS

Lord Northcliffe told a Chicago interviewer that "newspapers do one half the police work in the world and get no credit for it." His lordship did not mean police work in the ordinary sense of the term, but that line of action which tends to promote material goodwill between nations. In this he is on solid ground. Ill-will breeds in secrecy. Like other loathesome things, it flourishes in the dark. When diplomacy was sacrosanct and the public were taught to believe that the wise men temporarily in charge of international matters were not to be interfered with, nations were at each other's throats almost without warning. Officialdom is always prompt to take offence, and permanent officials are apt to carry on correspondence over grave issues as if they were playing some sort of a game. The result often has been that side-issues were raised which prevented a fair consideration of the real question in dispute. Hence arose distrust, and distrust is the parent of ill-will. The press has changed all that. The ubiquitous reporter, with a nose for news, is no respecter of persons. A man may be begirt with belts and sashes and decorated with all manner of orders, but if he has any news the reporter is likely to get it. If he does not, he goes after the facts at first hand and tells of the things which officialdom would like to keep secret. He lets light in upon the dark places of international relations. Thus the people learn what their rulers are dealing with and public opinion makes itself felt. This is police work in the broad sense of the term. Perhaps the press itself hardly appreciates the value of its services in this respect. Certainly, as Lord Northcliffe says, it gets no credit for it; but we do not know that this is very material.

THE CANADIAN LANGUAGE

This is from the Ladies Pictorial, an English publication:

We have much to learn from the colonies, but perhaps one of the most suggestive lessons has just been brought home to us in British Columbia, where, in the telephone school, is given a course in the "Canadian language." It seems that Canadian and American cities have complained of the "English accent." But by the Scottish telephonists they are quite nonplussed, and therefore an elocutionist has been engaged who shall teach the pupils to "talk slowly, enunciate clearly," and so far as possible speak the "Canadian" language. The fact that English "as she is spoke" this side of the herring pond sounds unfamiliar to transatlantic ears ought to make us less keen in criticizing American English. As a matter of fact, there is a certain charm about what has sometimes been called the "American twang" that English hearers are somewhat slow to realize, yet it is obvious that the difference must be felt on both sides. To hear ourselves as others hear us is a difficult matter for those who pride themselves on the "King's English" at its best, yet we still have something to learn on this point. Few of us, in fact, duly appreciate the richness and great phonetic beauty of our mother tongue, and prefer to rave over the charm of some other language of which the majority understand but the rudiments.

We did not know that anyone claimed that we have a Canadian language, but we do know, and so does nearly everyone, that the pronunciation of many English people is almost unintelligible over the telephone, the reason being that they do not enunciate clearly. We are not very sure that the "Canadian accent" is as melodious as it might be, but it is a fine thing over the telephone. English, properly spoken, is a very beautiful language, but, as The Ladies Pictorial points out, few of us appreciate its phonetic beauty. Consequently very many persons are not careful with their vowel sounds. The vowel "a" is one of the worst used, being very often given the short sound of "e." For example, one frequently hears "that" pronounced as if it were spelled "thet," "avenue" as if it were "evenue." Canadians very frequently miss the liquid sound of the long "u," making it as if it were "oo." It would be a very delightful thing if we would all learn to speak English as it ought to be spoken.

Will Mr. E. F. McFarlane, who has sent us two letters, be good enough to communicate with this office?

We are severely criticised because we do not print the proceedings at the meetings of the Political Equality League. The only explanation we have to offer is that these proceedings do not, in our judgment, come under the head of news.

Our evening contemporary asks if the difference in prices between here and Vancouver is the fault of the people. Our reply is that it is. It is the fault of a few people that the prices here are higher and the fault of the rest of us that we stand for it.

In Montreal there are 666 people to every acre of park; in Toronto 265; in Winnipeg 332. How does Victoria measure up in this respect? We figure it out, not including Mount Douglas, as 400 people to the acre, but shall be glad to be corrected if wrong.

The director of the observatory at the University of Santa Clara predicts a dry and warm October. He bases his forecast upon the condition of the sun, which, he thinks, will remain quiescent during the month. The prolonged fine and warm weather of last month is explained by the absence of sun-spots.

The London Lancet says that breakfast is wholly unnecessary. We all know, or at least we have all been told, that supper is injurious. Lunch is, or at least we are told it ought to be, a mere formality, and everyone knows that late dinners should be taboo. Suppose we cut them all out and snap our fingers at the high cost of living.

A man named Edward McDonald was recently found in a lodging-house in San Francisco in a high fever and a state of coma. His surroundings were sordid. In his pocket was a single 5c piece, but sewed securely in his clothes were bonds and securities to the value of $1,270,000, all in good, paying companies. Perhaps this is the record case of miserliness.

Mr. Charles M. Schwab has a $15,000 hen house. Any man with money can build that kind of a hen house, but what is wanted is the man who will make hens lay eggs when the price thereof mounts to 75 cents a dozen. If Mr. Schwab wants to go down in history as a benefactor, he will give less attention to hen houses and more to producing a cross between a hen and a herring.

Dr. Osler, referring to the manner in which medical students are compelled to pursue their work, says that "examinations are sterilizing." There is much in this. Nearly everyone who has worked with a view to passing examinations, knows that it has a tendency to contract him intellectually. Such a person has before him all the time the fear that he may not pass and his mind gets in a rut. This is doubtless why so many young men, who come out of college brilliantly, fail when they are brought face to face with actual conditions.

Anglicans will be interested to know that a strong movement is on foot in the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States to remove the word "Protestant" from the title-page of its Prayer Book and substitute for the present title that of the "Holy Catholic Church," the proposal being based upon the claim that the Mother Church—that is, the Church of England—never was Protestant any more than it was Roman, but is itself in distinct and unbroken succession from the original Catholic Church. The new movement appears to have originated in California.

The Commission of Conservation has issued a book of nearly 400 pages dealing with the Long Saulte Rapids. It contains a great deal of information which we assume is valuable, but it is an exceedingly depressing book to look at, and the binding is execrable. In regard to this Commission, it is putting out a vast amount of literature, so much that it is impossible for the public to digest it. Every day or two something new reaches us from its head office. One would need to do almost nothing else, if he proposed to read and study it all. We suggest a little conservation in the matter of printer's ink, and a little more liberality in the exercise of condensation.

FINE DISPLAY ASSURED

Saanich Agricultural Association's Show Has Excellent Exhibits

Today the judges begin their labors on the entries for the North and South Saanich Agricultural Show at Saanichton and by the time the public arrives on Saturday the results in each class will be known.

Mr. H. P. Allberry, secretary of the Saanich Agricultural Association, stated last night that entries were coming in exceedingly well and that the classes in fruit may be expected to be stronger even than those at Victoria. A large number of entries of flowers have been made and an exhibit is being put on by the Dominion Experimental Farm at Sidney which includes sixty varieties of flowers and thirty-five varieties of vegetables. The section devoted to women's work is being well supported and an excellent exhibit of the work done in the manual training classes of the Saanich schools is another feature of unusual interest. For the best collection of vegetables shown at this fair the Dr. S. F. Tolmie cup is annually competed for, the winner holding it until the next fair.

Seeks More Information—More information as to the conduct of the Sooke Lake waterworks, especially in regard to the terms on which the engineering staff in charge of the work has been engaged, is sought by Alderman Cuthbert, who yesterday posted notice that at the next session of the Council he would ask the Water Commissioner to report on the number of engineers and assistant engineers, in addition to Mr. Wynn Meredith, employed on the work during the past twelve months, and the amount of commission paid Mr. Meredith on the employment of these men during the same length of time, in addition to his salary of $1,000 per month.

STRONG DENIAL OF LAND GRIEVANCES

Mr. J. G. Johnstone, of This City, Repudiates Story in Contemporary Regarding Queen Charlotte Island.

Mr. J. G. Johnstone, of this city, who has returned after an extended trip on Graham Island, gives emphatic denial to statements made by Wr. W. W. Baer, "field manager of the Liberal party in British Columbia," published in The Times of August 8, under a Vancouver date. The article, which was headed "Pre-emptor's Trials at Queen Charlotte," Mr. Johnstone said was untrue in every particular, and created surprise and indignation among the pre-emptors of the district referred to, many of whom asked Mr. Johnstone to make a denial on arrival at Victoria.

One of them, Mr. Charles M. Wilson, of Delkatlah, who was referred to by Mr. Baer, has written a letter to Mr. Johnstone, in which he stated that the article credited to Mr. Baer was written by Mr. Wilson two years before, when he considered he had a grievance. Strong inducements were held out to him when he wrote it two years before to publish it, but he had refused, as he felt that the Government needed but to realise the situation to adjust matters. This had been done, and Graham Island was progressing as never before.

"In all my travels over Graham Island, and I have been traveling extensively there," said Mr. Johnstone, "I found but one settler who was dissatisfied, and the reason of this man's dissatisfaction was because he was not permitted to take up a pre-emption on a timber limit which had been held for several years, and which was not available for pre-emption, not only because it was held as a timber limit, but also because it held over 8,000 feet of timber to the acre, and therefore was not available for pre-emption." This man is a fisherman, and told Mr. Johnson he wanted to get this place to build a shack on and make it a base for fishing.

The other settlers were indignant because of the manner in which they had been misrepresented by Mr. Baer.

Unfounded Statements

His statements, Mr. Johnstone said, were totally unfounded. "In no instance has any settler been compelled to pay any money to any person in order to retain his land, and when Mr. Baer states that he is convinced that there are fifty cases of this character, he is convinced of something which is untrue; and as a man of intelligence he must have known this to be the case. Even in his reference to Mr. Wilson's ranch Mr. Baer was misleading. He cited this case to show what could be grown on a clearing of fifteen acres. The pre-emption taken up by Mr. Wilson was tidal land on Delkatlah Bay, which was open, and no clearing was done on the fifteen acres referred to, although some dyking was done. The cleared land probably grows better crops than on this place. There is no complaint on the part of the settlers either as to the possibilities of the land or the action of the Government in connection with them."

Mr. Johnstone said that in the majority of cases, the settlers were greatly pleased regarding the manner in which they had been aided by the Government. Over $75,000 had been spent in public works, roads, trails, bridges, etc., to aid them, and the majority of the residents found these public works not only welcome on account of the assistance in opening up the country, but because they supplied them with opportunity to secure employment, and thus provided them with money to assist them in developing their holdings.

"If Mr. Baer again visits Masset and talks to the pre-emptors who assemble on the wharf built for their benefit by the Government, he will hear some remarks concerning his veracity," said Mr. Johnstone. The settlers told him they were indignant about the manner in which he had misrepresented them, for conditions were very good on the Island.

"When I was at Masset I visited Delkatah, walking across a bridge 1,050 feet long on piles which the Government had built to aid the settlers in that part. There were a number of settlers gathered on the wharf at Masset to meet the incoming steamer, and they were enthusiastic regarding the manner in which the Government was assisting them. There was one complainant, and the other standing nearby said that he was one of the kind who are born complaining, and would be 'a kicker anyhow,' whatever was done. I asked them what they thought of farming the muskeg land, and some said: 'The muskeg for mine,' while others said they preferred to have harder clearing and the soil of the timbered land."

GOOD PROGRESS ON EAST COAST LINE

E. & N. Railroad Company's Extension to Courtenay Being Rapidly Pushed Ahead—Bridges Under Construction.

That splendid progress is being made on the East Coast extension of the E. & N. Railway is the effect of reports received from officials who have been over the right of way from McBride Junction to Courtenay. It is confidently expected that the steel will be laid and the line ready for operation sometime early next year.

At present workmen are engaged in the construction of the French Creek bridge under the supervision of a representative of the Dominion Bridge Company. The material necessary has not yet all arrived but is coming to hand as it is needed, the work thus far, going forward since its inception without interruption. This is the most formidable of the streams to be spanned on the road. With its completion it will be possible to push ahead the rails much more rapidly. The foundations for the other trestles between McBride Junction and Courtenay have been laid, all that remains being the erection of the superstructures which are comparatively insignificant tasks.

While there is no authoritative or definite announcement it is by no means improbable that, with the completion of this section, the company's management will be authorized to proceed further toward the north end of the Island. It is well known that the country north of Courtenay has been surveyed with this end in view. A reconnaissance party has been in the field all Summer going over the old survey, ascertaining whether the route already selected cannot be improved, and preparing a report on the character of the district. Doubtless much will depend on the information obtained from this source as to whether the company's activities in the matter of Island extensions will continue without cessation.

NEWS OF THE CITY

Open Hours Extended—For the balance of the Autumn and Winter, the reading room at the Public Library will be kept open until 10 o'clock.

S. P. C. A. Cases—The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals dealt with nineteen cases during September. Two horses were condemned.

Will Erect Dwelling—A permit was issued yesterday by the building inspector to Mr. A. W. Jones for a dwelling on Haultain Street to cost $3,000.

New Post Offices—A sub-office, officially known to the post office authorities as No. 11, was opened in Victoria during September. Three other offices were also opened in the Province in the last month, at Kennfalls, Bevan and Savory Island.

Judge Lampman Indisposed—On account of indisposition, Judge Lampman held no session of the County Court yesterday. The suit of A. Aldridge, who claims $125 for making an audit of the books of the Victoria Steam Laundry, was adjourned.

Inland Revenue Returns—Inland revenue collections for the month of September were made up as follows: Spirits, $14,847.57; malt, $2,400; tobacco, $1,041.20; raw leaf tobacco, $953.40; cigars, $320.80; malt liquor, $312.80; other receipts, 78 cents. Total, $19,676.01.

Month's Customs Returns—The customs receipts for the month of September were $178,658 for revenue collected on duty-paid goods, and $74 for revenue from other sources, making a total of $178,732.03, as compared with $243,121.44 for the corresponding month of last year. The chief falling off occurred in the number of automobiles imported from the United States.

Progress of Paving—Concreting of the Gorge Road from Douglas Street to Manchester Road will be completed by the end of the week when the Canadian Mineral Rubber Company will commence laying the asphaltic surface. Grading work on the unpaved half of Douglas Street is in progress, and as soon as this work and the laying of the concrete base has been done by the city the paving company will finish with the surface.

Standard Type of Escape—If the specifications which Fire Chief Davis has had prepared of a standard type of fire escape is approved by the City Council and incorporated in the building by-law amendments, in future all buildings to be equipped with escapes must bear the standard fixed by the city. Hitherto no particular type of escape has been designated though all have had to be passed by the fire chief before being allowed to be brought into service.

Must Answer Charge—The last chapter of a minor incident in the everyday history of Victoria, which began yesterday afternoon in a dispute between two Indians and Special Officer Patrick Carroll, of the E. & N. Railroad, and reached a climax in a general melee in which Carroll proved triumphant, will be written in the records of the police court this morning when E. Modest and M. Haldon will appear to answer a charge of creating a disturbance at the offices of the E. & N. Railroad.

Christmas Cheer—The Trades and Labor Council has appointed a committee consisting of President Sivertz of the federation, Vice-President Watchman and T. H. Norris, secretary of the council, to look into the whole question, so far as Victoria is concerned, of providing Christmas cheer for the children of the strikers in the coal area. They will get into communication with the officers of District 28, United Mine Workers of America, in regard to making purchases and preparing for Christmas.

Motor Cases in Court—Three cases arising out of infractions of the Motor Act were begun yesterday in the police court and were adjourned for further hearing. A. Riddell was charged with failing to carry his driver's badge in a conspicuous position when driving a motor car; Mr. W. J. Mason appeared to answer a charge of failing to report an accident as required under the act; and Mr. John A. Turner for failure to carry a tail light on his car when driving. The cases of Messrs. Riddell and Turner will be heard this morning, while Mr. Mason will appear on Saturday.

Freight Rates—The Victoria Board of Trade has been advised that at Vancouver on Wednesday Mr. L. G. McPhillips, K.C., met the Freight Rates Committee of the Vancouver board and discussed with them various matters concerning the hearing before the Railway Commission. Mr. McPhillips having been appointed to represent British Columbia. Mr. A. G. McCandless, who had headed the deputation which waited on the Attorney-General, Mr. Bowser, who appointed Mr. McPhillips, stated that the Attorney-General had promised the assistance of the Provincial Government in every way.

An Ice-Cream Climate—Applications for booklets and literature on the natural resources of Vancouver Island continue to come in numbers to the offices of the Island Development League. Yesterday an inquirer from Stettler, Alta., asked for information regarding the prospects of the establishment of a candy and ice cream parlor in one of the Island towns. He added naively that he had become convinced, after experience, that the climate of Stettler was ill-suited to the conduct of such a business in the Winter months. Other inquiries were received from Peoria, Ill., Wolseley, Man., and Toronto.

Native Sons to Entertain Pioneers—At the next meeting of Post No. 1, Native Sons of British Columbia, to be held on October 10, the society will hold its annual pioneer reunion in the lodge room, K. of P. Hall, North Park Street. Each year the Native Sons have made it a practice to entertain the men who pioneered this Province, and went through all the trials and privations of pioneering days, and raised the country to what it is today, and the event is always looked forward to with keen anticipation, for it is there that the young and old men of the city and Province are able to get together and listen to tales of the good old times, when Victoria and British Columbia were in the making. The feature of this year's reunion will be a lecture on the old Cariboo days, by Judge Eli Harrison, which will be illustrated with stereopticon views by Mr. A. H. Maynard. A musical programme will also be enjoyed, and refreshments provided.

B.C. Number—The Colonist has just received the October issue of The Railway and Marine News. The leading feature is the first of a series of articles covering the general transportation situation of this Province. The first article covers in a general way the immense railroad work now in hand as well as port improvements both on the Mainland and Vancouver Island, the article having been prepared by the editor of the publication on a recent trip of several days to this section. This will be followed up by several special articles on marine and railroad development at Prince Rupert, Victoria and Vancouver.

To Visit Constituency—Hon. Dr. Young, Provincial Secretary and Minister of Education, intends to visit his constituency shortly, and, at the same time, to enjoy some hunting in the Atlin country. His present plan is to leave the city on Saturday and travel to Vancouver, catching the Princess May at that port and proceeding North on Monday. While in Vancouver he expects to hold a conference with Dr. Wesbrook, president of the university. Dr. Young will remain in Atlin for about ten days. Hon. W. J. Bowser, Attorney-General, who has spent the week in the Interior, will be back in town on Saturday afternoon.

Important Meeting—An important meeting of the Council of the Board of Trade will be held at 10:30 o'clock this morning, to make preparations for the quarterly meeting, which takes place on Friday, October 10. Reports are to be received from a number of regular and special committees on questions of vital local concern. Hon. E. G. Prior, vice-president, who has recovered from his recent indisposition, will preside. In this connection it is announced that Mr. J. J. Shallcross, the board's president, will not reach Victoria from the Old Country in time to take the chair at the quarterly session. He was to have sailed on September 20, but the death of a member of the family while he was in London delayed his departure at least a fortnight.

Fumigate Every Car—Thomas Cunningham, inspector of fruit pests, is taking steps to secure from the Government directions for the thorough fumigation of every car of fruit that arrives from the United States. Since August 19, thirty-three consignments of fruit infected with codling moth have had to be destroyed, and the Department does not want to take any chances with the spread of this pest in British Columbia. If there is any trace of pests in a shipment of fruit, it is either condemned or sent back to the shippers, according to Mr. Cunningham. He says that it cost the Government $20,000 this year to handle pest-infected fruit shipments. He says that it is possible that the Government may pass legislation fining those who bring pest-infected fruit into the Province.

Served Liquor to Minor—Serving intoxicants to a seventeen-year-old boy on September 25, was a charge heard against the Westholme Hotel in the police court yesterday morning. The proprietor pleaded guilty, but claimed extenuating circumstances. That a repast, the most solid part of which was a crab salad, and which was accompanied by liquid refreshment in the form of a Manhattan cocktail, champagne and beer, was served, was shown by the evidence. The lad, it was adduced, was sick on going home. In fining the hotel $50 the magistrate observed that it was no wonder the youngster was indisposed, but he admitted that the boy's appearance was deceiving, and that he might be taken to be considerably older than he was. The licensee was represented by Mr. J. A. Aikman.

Manxmen Meet—Manxmen of Victoria gathered last night at the Carlton Cafe, Broad Street, at their annual meeting and elected the following officers for the coming year: President, Mr. J. Cleator, re-elected; vice-president, Mr. R. Hampton; secretary, Mr. J. A. Corlett; treasurer, Mr. T. Martin, re-elected; master-at-arms, Mr. R. Lewin. The following will form the committee: Messrs. J. Corrin, B. Temple, F. Dunston and J. Rivers. Miss Gawne, of Glentraugh, Rushen, Isle of Man, who is making a pleasure trip through Canada, and proposes to spend the Winter in Victoria, addressed the meeting and awakened many a thrill in the hearts of her audience by her descriptions of places and people well known to all loyal Manxmen. The arrangements for the annual banquet were left in the hands of the social committee.

Hon. W. R. Ross Leaves—With a view to consulting with Mr. W. J. Elliot, principal of the Agricultural College of Alberta, Hon. W. R. Ross, Minister of Lands, left yesterday for Calgary. The Minister was not disposed to discuss the object of his visit, but it is understood that it relates to certain experiments that are at present being carried on in this Province along the line of dry farming. The honorable Minister has been devoting considerable attention to this subject during the year, and it is believed that his present trip will result in the evolution of yet another effort on the part of the Lands Department to assist in the establishment of the dry farming industry in the Province. He expects to be gone for about ten days, but a portion of his time will be occupied in visiting parts of the Kootenay district where several experiments in agriculture are now being carried out.

PREMIERS AGREE TO POSTPONE MEETING

Date of Ottawa Conference Is Set Back a Week and Will Now Be Held on October 27—Sir Richard Advised.

The forthcoming conference of Provincial Premiers, arranged to be held in Ottawa on October 20, has been postponed for a week, and will now be held on October 27. Word to this effect was received here yesterday, and was immediately forwarded to Sir Richard McBride in London, so that he might alter his plans, if necessary, as he had arranged to be in Ottawa on the first mentioned date.

The information came in the form of a cable from Sir James Whitney, Premier of Ontario, and Sir Lomer Gouin, Premier of Quebec. The message was as follows:

"For reasons which will be explained when conference meets, we have agreed to postpone the meeting until October 27, at the same place and hour, and hope no inconvenience will be caused by the postponement."

Hon. Dr. Young, upon receipt of the cable, at once had it transmitted to Sir Richard McBride in London. Sir Richard had wired the Provincial Secretary yesterday informing him of his homecoming plans. He pointed out that it was his intention to leave Great Britain in time to reach Ottawa by the original date set for the meeting of the Provincial Premiers.

In view of this change of date it is likely that the Premier will now remain in England for a few days more and devote the extra time he has to the business he has in hand, as strict adherence to his plans would only bring him to Canada days ahead of the conference and yet not sufficient for him to come West and return in time for the conference.

VERDICT OF "NOT GUILTY"

Mr. Donald Cameron Discharged After Standing Trial for Theft—Hindu Case Today

In the assize court yesterday the only feature was the discharging of Mr. Donald Cameron, who was charged with having a part with Master Fred Casey in the theft of $103 from the clothes of Mr. Ivan Krudsen while the latter slept in one of the Victoria Hotel rooms. The money was taken on the night of September 11, after Messrs. Casey and Cameron had helped put Mr. Knudsen, who was intoxicated, to bed. Master Casey, a lad of 16 years, pleaded guilty in the police court and was allowed out on suspended sentence. Mr. Cameron maintained his innocence and on Wednesday afternoon, on his own behalf, denied all knowledge of the theft. After hearing Mr. R. C. Lowe, for the defence, and the Crown Prosecutor, Mr. H. B. Robertson, as well as the summing up of Mr. Justice Gregory, the jury, having been absent little over five minutes, returned a verdict of "not guilty" and the prisoner was discharged.

Messrs. W. S. Terry and H. H. Boyd were the only witnesses called yesterday afternoon. Both knew the accused and testified to his character as far as they knew. In their dealings with him, they declared, he had always been trustworthy. Following that counsel for the defence made his address in which he dwelt on certain contradictions in the evidence of Master Casey as given in the police court and in the assize court. He claimed that Mr. Cameron, in his account, gave a full and unreserved account of his actions on the night in question and declared that he was entitled to as much credence as Master Casey. He took the position that it was the latter who was the central figure in the automobile drive into the country and that his client had merely been one of the guests.

For the Crown the testimony of Master Casey was reviewed, its accuracy being maintained, while the account given by Mr. Cameron was criticized. His Lordship deprecated the importance of the discrepancies indicated in the evidence of Master Casey but pointed out that the story of an accomplice, especially without corroboration, was to be accepted only after very careful consideration.

Immediately after the jury's return, and the release of Mr. Cameron, another jury was empaneled to take up the case of Lab Singh, a Hindu charged with an indecent offence. Its personnel follows: Messrs. Andrew Anderson, G. M. H. Christie, M. J. Laber, Daniel McCarter, A. W. Roll, R. C. McCarter, E. R. Irving, A. E. Dempster, A. R. Nex, S. R. Gaher, W. Ballantyne and Patrick O'Connell.

The court was adjourned to 11 o'clock Friday morning.

Rally Tonight in Central Rooms Will Prove Successful One

The first gathering of the Conservatives of Ward Two will take place this evening in the rooms of the Victoria Conservative Association, 1203 Government Street. The rally will take the form of a smoking concert and a capital programme of music has been arranged by Secretary James Roberts.

With the exception of Sir Richard McBride, who is absent, it is expected that all the members for Victoria will be present and will make short addresses.

GRAIN BOAT FOR BUNKERS

To take on bunker coal preparatory to clearing for the United Kingdom, the British steamer Coila will pass up to Comox from the Columbia, where she has been loading a cargo of wheat. She will touch here to pick up a pilot. The Coila has 125,000 bushels of wheat, valued at $108,750, and 140,350 bushels of barley, worth $97,884. She is under charter to H. M. Houser.

NEWS OF THE CITY

Ran Slaughter House—Thomas Mould, of Maywood, was yesterday fined a nominal sum of five dollars in the Provincial police court for operating a slaughter house within the municipality of Saanich in contravention of the health by-law. Mr. J. A. Aikman, solicitor for the municipality, conducted the prosecution.

Imported Cattle—The fourth consignment of cattle imported by the Government to replenish the herds of the Province is now installed in the sheds at the Exhibition grounds. They are in excellent condition and several calves have been born on the journey, one arriving since the shipment reached Victoria. The date of the auction has now been fixed for October 15.

Increased Building in Oak Bay—The building returns for Oak Bay for the month of September show a general revival of development and an increase over the figures for the corresponding period in 1912. Permits covering buildings of the value of $56,600 were issued, compared with $14,499 last year. The grand total for 1913 to September 30 reaches $755,983 as against $868,008 for the same period in 1912.

Accepted Rectorship — The many friends of Mgr. Nicolaye, irrespective of creed, will learn with profound regret that he is not to return to the diocese of Victoria. He has accepted a rectorship of a Kneip cure establishment and sanatorium in the city of Hearlh, Holland, near his native home. As a mark of the esteem in which he is held by the Bishop of Victoria, Mgr. Nicolaye retains the office and title of vicar-general.

Forestry Inspection—Mr. H. R. McMillan, chief forester for the Provincial Government, left town yesterday in one of the motor launches of the Lands Department in order to make an inspection trip of the lumber camps on the East Coast of Vancouver Island. These visits are made periodically, and with a view to ascertaining whether or not the regulations of the Forestry Act are being observed. He will be absent several days.

Third Unit—Progress with the laying of the pipe for the third unit at the Jordan River plant of the Vancouver Island Power Company is excellent. Already seventy-four lengths have been set up, out of a total of 330, which is equal to a total of 10,000 feet. The pipes will conduct the power down the waterways to the plant. The new dam is now being rapidly filled. The dam has a capacity of 10,000,000 potential kilowatt hours and of this amount 8,200,000 kilowatt hours are already stored. To obtain this result the resources of Bear Creek dam have been drawn upon, so that the old dam is now empty, while the new is nearing its capacity limit.

Improving Equipment—The B.C. Electric is arranging to have every car in the city provided with doors or gates in the next few months. The system has been tried on several of the Fort Street lines and worked to advantage. Gates will be put up on all single-ended cars, while doors will be constructed for the double-ended vehicles. At the present time, eleven cars are fitted with gates and one with doors. It is the intention of the company, however, to have nineteen double-ended cars fitted with doors before the end of the year. This, of course, will have to be done gradually, so as not to interfere with the service in the streets.

Vicar-General—Yesterday the Rev. Father Joseph Leterme, of St. Andrew's Cathedral, Blanchard Street, was appointed vicar-general of the Roman Catholic diocese of Victoria by His Lordship Bishop MacDonald. Mgr. Nicolaye, V.G., who left for his home in Holland last Fall, is not to return. The Very Rev. Mgr. Leterme, V.G., is a native of the diocese of Bruges, Belgium, where he was born about fifty years ago. He was ordained to the priesthood at the American College, Louvain, Belgium, on September 12, 1886, and celebrated the silver jubilee of his ordination in September, 1911, at which time he was given a reception in the Knights of Columbus Hall, Langley Street, and was presented with a purse and a chalice.

Navy League—The annual general meeting of the Navy League and Trafalgar Day Concert will be held at Ganges Harbor, Salt Spring Island, on October 20 at 8:30 p. m. Mr. H. C. Brewster will deliver the Trafalgar Day address and "Our National Insurance" photo lantern slides of the principal ships, torpedo boats, submarines, seaplanes, etc., will be shown. The president and hon. secretaries of other branches in the Province have been invited to attend, also the members of the B. C. Federated League. A large wreath, bearing the motto "Salt Spring Island, B. C., Tries to Obey Nelson's Signal" will be placed on the Nelson Column, Trafalgar Square, London, on October 21.

Sunday School Convention—At the First Congregational Church next Wednesday and Thursday evenings, the Victoria District Sunday School Association will meet in convention. Rev. J. W. Williamson, the British Columbia secretary, will be present and address a mass meeting of Sunday School scholars on Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. On Thursday evening he will speak on the World's Convention recently held in Zurich, Switzerland. Among other speakers on the programme are Rev. J. G. Inkster, Rev. Dr. Scott, W. J. Shortt, Alderman A. B. McNeill, F. Davey, M. P. P., and H. G. Penman. It is expected that many Sunday School workers will attend these sessions.

New Westminster Fair—Professor W. T. McDonald, livestock commissioner for the Province, who was in the city for a short time yesterday between two visits to the New Westminster Fair, reported that the fine weather and large attendance was making that show an enormous success. The Holsteins were not as strong as at Victoria, but there was even keener competition among Ayrshire cattle and Clydesdales. In the last the placing of the Victoria judge was reversed, the championship being taken by Captain Watson's "Baron's Craigie," and in the Ayrshires "Peter Pan" continued his championship career, but the championship cow was shown by a local breeder, Mr. J. Thompson, in a grand class of aged cows. The champion Clydesdale female was a two-year-old filly shown by Mr. Duncan Montgomery.

APPROVE SEPARATE SYSTEM FOR SEWER

Inter-Municipal Conference Comes to Decision on Drainage Scheme—Proportion of Cost Yet to Be Fixed.

The question of the joint sewer system for the use of Victoria, Esquimalt and Saanich was taken up at a conference held last night at the City Hall, and a speedy decision was come to by all concerned that the main should be constructed for sewerage alone, which will, according to Mr. R. H. Thomson's report, cost only $369,000, as against $495,000, which is the estimated cost of a system which would handle both sewerage and surface drainage.

Alderman Humber, of the City Council, presided, and there were present for the city the Mayor and Aldermen Gleason, Cuthbert, Meston, Fullerton, Porter, Dilworth and McNeill, City Solicitor Robertson and City Engineer Rust; for Saanich Councillors Quick, McGregor, Borden and Williams, the Saanich solicitor, Mr. Aikman, and Mr. Topp, the Saanich engineer; and Esquimalt was represented by Mr. Saunders, the Reeve, and Councillors Wolfenden, Mesher, McAdam and Cave, with Mr. Casey, the engineer.

After deciding on the separate system for the sewer, there remained the adjustment of the proportionate payments by the three parties. Mr. Rust put the cost to the two municipalities at, roughly, $50,000 apiece, and said that the way this has been apportioned was to find the cost of constructing a sewer which would accommodate the needs of Victoria West, and then the additional size and cost of one which would serve the other two municipalities as well.

Alderman Cuthbert suggested that the solicitors of the three parties should draft an agreement; that the three engineers should prepare plans and apportionment of cost, and that both these documents should be brought before another joint meeting. This suggestion was approved unanimously, and the date of the next conference fixed for Thursday, October 9.

Mayor's Suggestion

Mayor Morley, in supporting the motion, suggested that, as the sewer must be built in the first instance big enough for the requirements of many years to come, and as it would bear unfairly hard on the present population of the two municipalities to shoulder the burdens of the future over and above their own immediate requirements, that the cost of what they actually needed in the way of sewerage should be deducted from their share of the whole work, and that the Government should be asked to bear the difference. The city, he said, would gladly join with the municipalities in urging this upon the Government.

The Mayor brought up for discussion other matters common to the city and the municipalities, namely, the inspection of electric wiring, fire protection in Saanich and the construction of the Shelbourne Street extension to the Mount Douglas Park.

Councillor McGregor, on behalf of the Saanich Council, thought the inspection of electric wiring might well be managed without application for assistance from the city, but in the matter of fire protection, Saanich was perfectly willing to pay her share if the city would place another fire hall nearer the Maywood boundary and provide the needed apparatus. It would cut both ways; Saanich would be benefited by the protection, and the city would also be benefited in case of a large fire within her boundaries by having available more apparatus. The city representatives concurring, this matter will be brought up at the next City Council meeting.

Shelbourne Street Extension

The Mayor inquired of the Saanich councillors the position of affairs in regard to the proposed road to Mount Douglas Park, and was told that agreements were being drawn out for the deeding of rights-of-way. They would shortly be able to say how much would be needed for expropriation purposes. Up to the present, however, no answer had been received from the Government as to whether it would bear a proportion of the cost or how much might be expected from it. Alderman Dilworth thought that here, too, a joint deputation from the Councils should wait on the Ministers.

Accident Victim Dead—Wadah Singh, the Hindu who sustained severe injuries as a result of an accident while working for the Canadian Puget Sound Lumber Company, on September 26 last, died last evening at the St. Joseph's Hospital.

OBITUARY NOTICES

HALLETT—The funeral of Clara Annie, the two-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Hallett, Bell Mansions, who died on Thursday morning, will take place this morning at 10.30 o'clock from the B. C. Funeral Furnishing Company's rooms. Interment will be made at Ross Bay Cemetery.

MIDDLETON—Mrs. Blanche Welcome, wife of Mr. Walter Middleton, died on Wednesday night after a long illness at the residence of her sister, Mrs. Manton, 1501 Hillside Avenue. Deceased, who was 30 years of age and had resided in Victoria for two and a half years, was a native of Heston, Middlesex, England. A husband, three children, four sisters and one brother are left to mourn her loss. The funeral will take place this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the B. C. Funeral Furnishing Company's rooms. The service will be conducted by Rev. T. W. Gladstone. Interment will be made at the Ross Bay Cemetery.

BARRON—The funeral of the late Henry Newal Barron, age 60 years, who died on Monday last at St. Joseph's Hospital, after an illness of three months, will take place this morning at 9 o'clock, the service being at the Roman Catholic Cathedral. Deceased, who formerly lived at Parkview, Victoria, leaves a widow to mourn his loss.

In Women's Realm

By MARIA LAWSON

Miss Annie Hall

The Moon-Path

Rises the moon, and on the distant line,
Jagged the yellow-blue with serried edge,
Trees and a tall church steeple wedge,
And a clock striking nine.

Stands there a house, a mirror for her queen,
Still mounts the moon and silent hangs aloft,
Great, mellow, rounded, soft,
And the air grows keen.

Arching her path she crosses, and the blue
Yellows, and her face grows wanly pale.
Night after night she tells the tale—
She's telling it anew.

Comes then the dawn, and snowflakes fall around;
Falls round the Lamp toward the bitter West.
Run is her race, and now to rest—
The sun's above ground!

Women Workers

There are many good people who deplore the fact that girls, especially young girls, must leave their homes to work in the city. But, almost everywhere, conditions are such that the daughters as well as the sons of a family must earn their own living.

Yet, while parents, as a rule, are anxious that whenever possible their sons shall prepare to enter the ranks of skilled labor or one of the professions, they allow their girls to engage in work the wages of which will, at the best, barely suffice to support them.

When poverty forces parents to do this, they cannot be blamed, but when, by making a sacrifice the girls could be fitted for better positions, it should not be considered less necessary for them than for their brothers.

This is stated very clearly in the following extract from an article in the October Atlantic by Professor J. Laurence Laughlin, an authority on economics:

"The wrong situation—of which low wages, possible starvation, and the temptation to vice are only symptoms—is due primarily to the fact that women thrown on their own resources know no trade and crowd each other in the market for unskilled labor. The remedy lies in the creation of places of instruction where any woman (no matter how poor) shall be taught a trade and have the skill given her by which she can obtain a living wage. The remedy lies in preventing a congestion of unskilled feminine labor by industrial education. There is no other rational or permanent or human way out of the present wretched situation, if we have the real interest of the workers at heart—and are not interested chiefly in getting some cheap political notoriety."

Miss Annie Hall

Among new professions for educated women, few are more suitable or more attractive than that of architecture. Why should not women be taught to design the homes of a country? A woman with talent and taste and the necessary education and training ought to excel at least in house architecture.

Miss Annie Hall is the only woman in Great Britain to be a member of the Society of Architects. She qualified by examination, and was admitted in 1911. She is not, however, the only woman who has distinguished herself in this profession.

Miss B. A. and Miss E. M. Charles were admitted some years ago as associate members, and the latter carried off the silver medal of the institute for the best essay as long ago as 1905.

Continuation Classes.

It is greatly to be hoped that many applications will be received by the secretary of the school board for admission to the continuation classes. To this city as to all others many young people are coming, who have not had an opportunity of fitting themselves for their work. These evening classes offer opportunities for self improvement that ought not to be neglected. Especially is this true of the young women who come to take positions in homes in Victoria. It is the almost universal complaint that many of these cannot do plain cooking and that there is a great lack of system in their methods of working. This not only causes trouble in households but grief and mortification to the workers who often find themselves forced to change their situations.

In the domestic science centres, there is the equipment necessary for the very instruction these girls need. If they have a teacher who comprehends their difficulties, improvement should be rapid. When to these are added young women who are preparing themselves to become mistresses of homes of their own, there ought not to be wanting pupils for these evening classes.

In other countries and in other Canadian cities such continuation classes have been found a great boon. We have not here as large a foreign element as there is in Vancouver or Winnipeg. Still there are quite enough to form as large classes as can be taught when individual attention is required.

There has, up to the present, been a very small proportion of illiteracy among working people in Victoria. The establishment of evening classes ought to make even this smaller. Mothers and fathers who have been forced to take their boys and girls from school before they had reached the senior grades of the public school, should encourage them to take advantage of these evening classes.

A New Occupation.

Since women have gone out to work many household occupations have followed them. This is especially true of baking, washing and sewing. Laundries and bakeries flourish in all cities and ready-made clothing is manufactured or imported in large quantities.

The woman who spends her days in store, office or factory seldom has energy left to attend to the work that must be done if her own wardrobe is to be kept in order. She must have some recreation if she is to retain her strength and vigor. Often it is necessary that she should study in order to prepare for advancement. Sometimes she wants to devote her spare time to music or reading or some other form of culture.

Such a girl is forced to face the alternative of throwing away garments that are quite good or if spending upon them some of the precious hours needed for rest, recreation or self-improvement. A man in similar circumstances destroys or lays away the articles unfit for wear without much annoyance or any qualms of conscience or he calls in the services of the tailor or the cleaner.

A woman cannot, as a rule, employ a dressmaker to do repairing or pressing and the cleaner must only be employed occasionally. It is certain that many busy women every year lose money they can ill spare because they have not time or opportunity to make those small repairs which save so much.

Fine mending and fine washing, if carefully and well done help to keep a wardrobe fresh with far less expenditure of money than when either is neglected.

Would it not be possible for several women in a town of this size to cater to the needs of busy women and so support or help to support themselves? It should, of course, be remembered that prices must be moderate. The wage earning woman has usually little to spare. But if a woman is quick with her needle she could do a great deal of repairing in a day. This is a matter for the consideration of girls who are living away from home. Could not a number of these club together and employ a woman?

It is said that there are some women who are in need of work and who have not the strength to go out as charwomen. Could not at least one such person find employment by doing for several friends the work that a mother, elder sister or aunt would do were she at home? It seems as if such an arrangement could be made with mutual profit.

French Peasants

The people of California expect that when the Panama Canal opens many French peasants will come to work in the vineyards and orchards of the state. It is said that already farmers and mechanics in France are saving money with which to establish themselves in their new homes.

There are no more industrious, thrifty people in the world than the French peasantry, nor any that in their own land have been more successful. California is fortunate if she secures such immigrants rather than the poor people from Southern Europe, so many of whom have come to the Eastern States and to our own Canadian prairies.

Is it not time that we were preparing for the immigration to our own Province that is sure to follow when the rates become cheaper and the journey shorter? Hitherto it has been difficult for poor people to come to British Columbia, unless, as in the case of railroad building, their work was assured. The opening of the Panama Canal will make it at least as easy for immigrants to reach Vancouver Island as to come to Alberta.

In Winnipeg the Daughters of Empire are taking up the work of caring for the young women among the immigrants, for already the necessity for greater care and protection is plain. Would not the women's organizations of Victoria be wise to profit by the experience of the Provinces on the other side of the mountains and not wait till the trouble comes before they prepare to meet it? Much is now being done by the excellent immigration committee of the Women's Council and by the Young Women's Christian Association, but all their efforts are needed under present conditions.

We ought never to forget that in British Columbia the foundations of a great state are being laid and that there are many ways in which women can help in the work.

A dance will be held in Saanichton Agricultural Hall, Saanichton, Friday, October 10, at 9 p. m. Good music.

Dates Set for Victoria's Games With New Zealand

All-Blacks, One of World's Greatest Rugby Teams Play Here November 19 and 22 —Arrive on Coast.

Yesterday Secretary A. D. B. Scott, of the Victoria Rugby Union, received word from the California Rugby Union that Victoria's offer of a $900 guarantee for two matches with the New Zealand All-Blacks had been accepted. The dates allotted to Victoria are Wednesday, November 19, and Saturday, November 22.

With a visit from this great team assured, local footballers will rush preparations for the opening of the local season just as soon as the grounds are fit for play. The Barnard Cup series will be started in a few weeks at the very latest, and simultaneously the selection committee will get busy on the task of making up the representative team. This will not be an easy task by any means, judging by reports of the large amount of new material available this year. When picked, the representative squad will be put through as strict a course of training as was ever undertaken here, it being recognized that there must be no early season lagging if Victoria is to do justice to herself against the New Zealanders.

The New Zealanders, consisting of twenty-four picked Rugby players, the cream of one of the greatest football centres in the world, arrived in San Francisco yesterday on the steamer Willochra. They were welcomed by Mayor Rolph, William J. French, personal representatives of Governor Johnson, and representatives of the San Francisco Olympic Club, Stanford University and the University of California. Little time will be given them to rest up after their voyage, as they will start on their two months' tour of the Coast with a game on Saturday against the Olympic Club. The last game previous to their departure for Victoria will be played at Berkeley November 15 against an All-American team.

The 1913 All-Blacks' tour will be the fourth invasion of the Pacific Coast by players from the Antipodes. The All-Blacks of 1905, considered by many experts as the best fifteen the world has ever seen, were the first group of Ruggers to come. Theirs was an extensive tour, and they were particularly successful in competition—in short, they made a clean sweep.

Next to appear were the Wallabies, in 1908, who, on their way back from London, dropped in to show Coast enthusiasts a bit more about the game. The Wallabies hailed from Australia, while the All-Blacks come from New Zealand. The latter name is applied to the All-New-Zealand teams each year. The Waratahs, of Australia, were the last team to visit the Coast.

The twenty-three players who arrived yesterday with Manager George Mason constitute the pick of New Zealand. They are the all-star team of the Commonwealth. They wear the standard New Zealand uniform on the all-black scheme. Their emblem is a silver fern leaf, and their motto or by-word is "Kia Ora," which means "good luck."

KENNETH McDONALD

A promising young Rugby player, who will play for J. B. A. A. in the Barnard series this season. McDonald was with the Oak Bays last year.

Perhaps they will have a more ominous cry when they get into action.

Rugby followers are expecting wonderful playing ability from the visitors, and will no doubt be rewarded. The casual fan and the international expert alike look to them to produce a varied and fast style of game. And let it be said right now that the visitors are expected to win the majority of their games. They have Rugby blood in their veins, having played or seen the game from infancy. But, should some Coast team pin a defeat on them—well, let's see them play first and then talk about that afterwards.

The All-Blacks will sail home from Victoria.

Some idea of the plan of the tour may be gained from the following schedule:

Saturday, October 4—Olympic Club at St. Ignatius Grounds.

Wednesday, October 8—University of California at Berkeley.

Saturday, October 11—Barbarians at St. Ignatius Grounds.

Wednesday, October 15—Stanford University at Palo Alto.

Saturday, October 18—Stanford University at Palo Alto.

Wednesday, October 22—University of Santa Clara.

Saturday, October 25.—University of California at Berkeley.

Wednesday, October 29—University of Nevada at Reno.

Saturday, Noverber 1—University of California at Berkeley.

Wednesday, November 5—St. Mary's College at Oakland.

Saturday, November 8—University of Southern California at Los Angeles.

Wednesday, November 12—University of Santa Clara at Santa Clara.

Saturday, November 15—All-Americans at Berkeley.

CAN SUNDERLAND REPEAT SUCCESS

Supporters of English Football League Champions Are Agitated Over Their Chances —Why Rovers Lead.

The question that is agitating a certain coterie of Old Country football fans now living in Victoria is whether their idols, the "Sunderland Boys" can repeat last season's success; and many a hot argument have they had with partizans of other teams over this same question. Naturally, they stoutly refuse to admit a doubt of the ability of the champions to finish at the top of the heap once more.

To those who scoff at the performance of the team so far, they point to the beginning of last season, when out of the first seven matches played Sunderland only managed to win two, yet they finished up by annexing the league title with 54 points to their credit. This season's records show that out of six games played they have a 50 per cent standing, having won two, lost two and drawn two. In their recent game against Aston Villa, whom they defeated 2 to 0, they displayed much improved form, and no matter what happens, it is safe to say that they will give the present leaders a lot of trouble when tuned up to their greatest speed.

An Eastern sport writer ascribes the Blackburn Rovers' great success this season to the presence of many Scotchmen in their ranks, prefacing his remarks with the opinion that "although Scotchmen are not so keenly sought after by English teams as they used to be, still it must be admitted that Scottish halfbacks and forwards make an ideal combination, containing in its make-up a mastery of all the fine points of the game."

The Scotch players on the Rovers' line-up are: Alec Bell, transferred from Manchester United; Johnson, once of Glasgow Perthshire; Suttie, Leith Athletic; McGrory, Glasgow Perthshire; Chapman, Raith Rovers; Orr, an eastern ex-junior; "Wattie" Aitkenhead, Partick Thistle; and last, but not least, the one and only "Jocky" Simpson, who but for an accident of birth, would have been a "real" Scotsman. By this list it will be seen that Blackburn have the pick of the Northern "fitballers." Burnley have also a goodly number, the promoted team having in their line-up David Taylor, of Rangers and Motherwell; McLaren, of Cowdenheath; G. Halley, of Kilmarnock; Husband, of St. Mirren; Milligan and Pickering, juniors.

MEN SCORE A VICTORY OVER SCHOOL HOCKEYISTS

Yesterday the University School hockey eleven played their second match against a strong men's team gathered together by Mr. Collisson. The match was fast throughout, and the boys were afforded every chance of picking up new points about the game and seeing what their chief weaknesses were.

The first half saw the school pressed hard, and before half-time Mr. Collisson's team had scored after a fine run by D. M. Grant. Half-time saw the score 2-0 in favor of the men. After resuming play, the men put on two more goals, and then a slight alteration in the forward line of the University team seemed to wake them up and they scored two goals in quick succession and were pressing hard when the finish came with the score 4-2 in favor of Mr. Collisson's team.

For the winners, the brothers Grant, of Rugby fame, were much too quick and experienced for the boys, while Mr. Hudson was very safe at back. One of the boys who played for the men Standley, was easily the best half on the field, and should make his place on the School side, while Corsan, the goalkeeper, made some good saves. For the University School, the captain, Finlayson, never gave up, and played a magnificent game against odds, while Balcom and Schofield played well. The halves did not go back enough to help the backs. Mr. Hope, of the High School staff, again very kindly refereed.

Teams: Mr. Collisson's XI.—T. Corsan; A. Hudson and O. Clouston; B. Sizer, C. Collisson (capt.) and D. Stanley; W. Ford, A. Sparks, D. M. Grant, G. C. Grant and the Rev. Willis. University School—Henderson; Finlayson (capt.) and Waldon; McInnes, Dobbie and Winch; Inverarity, Hudson, Balcom, Schofield and Kilpatrick.

NEW ZEALAND TEAM IS FETED IN SOUTH

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—The fourth invasion of New Zealand Rugby players occurred today, when two dozen husky men disembarked from the steamer Willochra for a six weeks' tour of the Pacific Coast states and Canada. The visitors were feted throughout the day and evening. Informal addresses were made by representative Rugby players of the West, who had gathered to greet the visitors.

The team is under the management of George H. Mason and the captain is M. McDonald. The first game will be played against the Olympic Club team here on Saturday.

FIELD TRIALS TITLES WON BY VANCOUVER

VANCOUVER, B.C., Oct. 2.—Mr. D. G. Macdonnel, the well-known local fancier, carried off both championships at the annual field trials of the Northwest Field Trials Club, which were run off today at Ladner. Although the entry was not as large as in previous years, the day's results were most gratifying, and the owners, handlers and officials returned to Vancouver tonight thoroughly satisfied with the day's sport.

The Derby Stake, the first event, was run off in the morning. Flo, owned by Mr. Macdonnel, was awarded first prize. Flo ran a pretty heat, and Queenie, owned by Hamilton Abbott, of Vancouver, was second. She ran very wide and fast, and found more birds than the rest of the entrants. Third prize went to Tonydon, owned by Mr. D. G. Macdonnel, Vancouver. He won on his class only.

In the afternoon, the All-Age Stakes were run, first prize being won by Mr. Macdonnel's East View. Second prize was won by Shortover, owned by Mr. C. A. Godson, Vancouver; while third prize went to Mr. G. W. Hutching's Tony Spot, one of the oldest dogs running in the trials in this part of the country.

EASTERNERS WILL IGNORE MINTO CUP

MONTREAL, Oct. 2.—The Minto Cup may hang. Local lacrosse magnates do not say so, but that is what they mean. As long as it is permitted to stay on the Coast under the comic opera conditions under which it is there now, it is of little use to anybody anyhow, and therefore no more attempts will be made to play for it.

There is every possibility of a match being played for the championship of Canada, between the champions of the National Union and the Dominion Association.

WORLD'S SERIES CLUBS ARE AN EVEN CHOICE

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Outside of the home cities of the competing clubs in the coming world's series, wagering is at even money. In Philadelphia the Athletics are slight favorites over the New York team, and local supporters are quoting odds of 10 to 9 on the Giants.

VANCOUVER CHAMPIONS FINALLY WIN GAME

Vancouver, Oct. 2. — The Vancouver team broke their losing streak today, when they came from behind in the eighth inning, bunched hits on Dell and finished on the long end of a 6-4 score. Kelly's erratic decisions helped Vancouver to win.

Score—	R	H	E
Vancouver	6	8	4

MISS POOLEY ON VICTORIA TEAM

Local Lady Golfer Will Return Home in Few Weeks' Time —Arranging Next Henry Cup Round.

Much interest has been aroused in local golf circles by the announcement that Miss Violet Pooley, who has been visiting in the Old Country for about a year, will return home in a few weeks' time. There are few, if any, who will dispute Miss Pooley's right to be called Victoria's greatest lady golfer, and her return should give quite a fillip to the sport, especially as it almost synchronizes with the opening of the Winter season.

While in England, Miss Pooley participated in many tournaments, always ranking well up at the top. She was classed with the first three or four in the recent English ladies' championship meeting, her most notable achievement being the defeat of Miss Ravenscroft, the 1912 champion. At the present time, she is competing with very fair success in the Royal Canadian Golf Association meeting at Montreal, among her opponents being Miss Dodd, the present lady open champion of England.

It is the intention of the Victoria Golf Club to include Miss Pooley on the team of twenty ladies who will play against a combined Seattle and Tacoma team in the second round of the Henry Cup series in Seattle early in November. This competition calls for three wins out of five in order that a team may gain possession of the cup, and Victoria has already won once. All details as to the exact dates and the personnel of the Victoria Club team are now being arranged.

Francis Ouimet, who, playing with sensational brilliance against the Britishers, Vardon and Ray, won the United States open gold championship at Brookline, Mass., is only 20 years old. Ouimet's career on the links has been of the meteoric order, to say the least, though it must be said that he had the advantage during this championship of being familiar with every blade of grass that grows on the course. He has lived for years just across the way from the sixteenth hole, and it was over these links that he caddied when in his teens.

He took an interest in the game when in short trousers, and, like hundreds of other caddies on other links, began swinging clubs and copying the style of some of the best players. Naturally, his scope of observation was limited, but this self-taught youngster had no idea of letting it stop him. He persistently practised with someone else's clubs, and when the time came and he grew toward manhood he got a bag of clubs of his own. Then his career as a golfer began.

Ouimet is an American—not a Scotchman, as are many of our professionals, and not a Frenchman, as many have thought because of his name. He was born in Brookline, May 8, 1893, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ouimet. His father is a French-Canadian and his mother of Irish descent. He studied at the Brookline High school two years, caddied at the Brookline Country Club four years, and has been employed as a salesman for three years by a Boston sporting goods house.

This twenty-year-old slender young man grew in education and in golf, though he has never done anything worth while in the way of national championships until this year. Two years ago he was good enough to be ranked at three on the handicap list of the United States Golf Association, which allowance was increased to four when the list was given out this Spring. At Wheaton last year those who had high hopes in him were doomed to disappointment, for he failed even to qualify.

EXPEDITION ABANDONED

Bishop Lucas Tells of Failure of Party to Reach the Blonde Eskimos

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 2.—The Rt. Rev. Lucas, the recently consecrated bishop of the Mackenzie River, who is on a visit to the capital, in the course of an interview today, in touching upon the famous Stefansson controversy, said that he could not agree with the explorer as to the effect of contact with white men on the Eskimo. He remarked upon the capacity of the Eskimo to reason out things for themselves, and went on to say:

"Yes, the blonde Eskimos are within our diocese. We tried to reach them last Summer, but the severe storms made us late in getting to the fishing grounds. Further, the presence of starving Eskimos at Cape Parry, who ate the food that was meant for the expedition, made further progress impossible. Rev. W. H. Fry, who Wintered at Cape Parry with about fifty Eskimos, made a long trip by sledge during the Winter towards Cape Bexley, but the single Eskimo accompanying him became so sick that after waiting two or three days he was forced to turn back without seeing any of the blonde Eskimos.

"The failure to reach them proves conclusively the need of a sailing vessel with an auxiliary, the season being so short that any heavy storms mean the abandonment of the trip for the season. So far as I am aware the Church of England is the only church that has tried to reach the blonde Eskimos, but the Roman Catholic Church has sent in a priest by way of the Great Slave Lake, who may reach them or some other tribe."

HON MR. CROTHERS HOME

Minister of Labor Returns to Ottawa After Having Spent Six Weeks in Great Britain

OTTAWA, Oct. 2.—Hon. T. W. Crothers, Minister of Labor, arrived home today from a six weeks' trip to Great Britain which he made primarily for the purpose of looking into the method adopted by the British Government in labor disputes, especially those with coal miners.

Mr. Crothers was met by newspapermen and asked if he had anything to say in reply to the criticism made against him at the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress convention held in Montreal, when several delegates demanded his resignation.

"I am not yet familiar with the substance of the criticisms and until I am I have nothing to say. Come and see me tomorrow at my office," he invited cheerfully.

OPENING NEW LINE

Canadian Northern Railway May Operate Train Between Ottawa and Toronto Today

OTTAWA, Oct. 2.—Tomorrow will probably see the connecting of Ottawa and Toronto by the Canadian Northern Railway. Although no official notification has yet been received in the city, C. N. officials in Ottawa expect that Sir William Mackenzie will travel from Toronto to Ottawa over his own line either tomorrow or the next day.

DEMANDS BY JAPAN

Legation at Tokio Says Government Does Not Anticipate Evasion by China

PEKIN, Oct. 2.—The Japanese legation denies that Japan is making fresh demands on China, and points out that China has sufficiently complied with the original terms, with the exception of the punishment of the officers commanding the offending troops and the execution of the soldiers who killed the Japanese at Nanking. Japan, it adds, recognizes that it will take time to make a proper investigation by the Chinese Government, and anticipates no evasion of these points.

TRIBUTE TO THE PRESS

Lord Northcliffe Declares Newspapers Do Good Work in Preventing War

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—American negotiations with Mexico were commended by Lord Northcliffe, publisher of The London Times and many other English newspapers, in a talk at the Press Club yesterday, where he was the guest of honor.

Lord Northcliffe declared that the publicity given to the proceedings by the newspapers was the most effective method of averting war, and was educating other nations to the questions at issue.

"If it were not for the publicity of the newspapers, other nations would thing that all America is trying to do is to gobble up various dark people who live in Mexico," said Lord Northcliffe, "but the newspapers, far from making war, prevent war. The publication in advance of news that diplomats are fomenting war is enough to stop it."

Lord Northcliffe declared that newspapers do one-half of the police work of the world, and get no credit for it.

INFLUX OF IMMIGRANTS

Returns for Five Months Show Increase of 17 Per Cent Over Same Period Last Year

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 2.—Immigration figures which have just been received from Ottawa by Mr. J. Bruce Walker, Immigration Commissioner, show from April to August, inclusive, of this year, a total increase of 17 per cent over the corresponding months of 1912. The total immigration for the period in 1913 amounted to 287,777 against 242,509 last year. The highest increase was found in the month of June when it amounted to 19 per cent while the only decrease occurred in August when it dropped to a 30 per cent decrease. During the months mentioned above no less than 106,955 non-English speaking people came into this country, as against 68,158 during the corresponding months of 1912.

Accused of Dynamiting Bridge

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—George E. Davis, alias George O'Donell, was arrested by a United States marshal here today on a charge of blowing up by dynamite a New Haven railroad bridge at Mount Vernon, N. Y., September 3, 1911. Davis is also charged with having conspired with the McNamara brothers, Frank M. Ryan and other officers of the International Bridge & Structural Iron Workers Union, to wreck the Mount Vernon and other bridges. The marshal aserts that Davis has confessed.

ENGLISH GOLFERS ARE ELIMINATED

Miss Pooley Only Winner in Yesterday's Play at Montreal Forced to Go Course—Miss Barlow Beaten.

MONTREAL, Oct. 2.—In a pelting rain and over a water-soaked course, the third round of the ladies' qualifying championship was played off today. Two of the English players and the American champion, Mrs. Barlow, of Philadelphia, were eliminated from the first competition. The surprise of the day was the defeat of Mrs. Barlow by Miss Florence Scott, of Hamilton, who scored an easy victory with 7 up and 5 to play.

Miss Violet Pooley, of Victoria, B. C., was the only winner forced to play over the whole course to defeat her opponent, Miss Mabel Harrison, the Irish champion.

Winners at Egg-Laying Contest

BUFF ORPINGTONS

FINAL RESULTS OF EGG-LAYING CONTEST

First Prize In Both Classes Goes to Chilliwack Breeders —Average Yield Beats That of North American Contest.

Yesterday afternoon the second International Egg-Laying Contest, which has been running for ten months since December 4, 1912, came to an end and the first prize in both lightweight and heavyweight classes go to the Chilliwack district, Mr. A. Unsworth, of Sardis, leading the former with his pen of White Leghorns bred from Californian stock, and Mr. C. W. Robbins, of Chilliwack, leading the heavyweights with his Buff Orpington pen, bred from stock imported from Lincolnshire, England. As will be seen the competition between the two classes was extremely keen, and also between the leading heavyweight pens.

The average eggs laid by each bird beats that of the birds in the North American contest which has just been concluded at Philadelphia, the Victoria birds laying 145.7 against the 145.5 average of the American birds. The lightweights here averaged 158.5 against the 132.9 of the heavies.

The total number of eggs laid this year reached 34,977 or about 5,000 eggs more for the same number of birds than were laid in the contest last year.

A fully illustrated bulletin will be published by the Department of Agriculture as soon as possible giving the results of all the experiments and the data secured.

THE BOOMERANG INN

(By Edgar Fawcett.)

Sir.—It might be interesting to recall one of the early landmarks of Victoria, in connection with one of its early pioneers.

It was in 1858 that this inn was opened by Mr. Benjamin P. Griffin (familiarly called "Ben"). Ben Griffin came from Sydney, Australia, via San Francisco. My father was well acquainted with him there, as he was teller in a bank in George Street, with which my father did business. Of course, the Boomerang was named after the Australian natives' weapon, and the original boomerang brought by Mr. Griffin from Australia has descended to the present proprietress, Mrs. Marr.

The inn was as well known in Victoria as the law courts, or courthouse, as it was then called, and although situated in a back street and very unpretentious in appearance, it was very popular. It was patronized by professional men, as also business men, and, last but not least, remittance men, the latter making it their permanent quarters. In the early sixties there was an influx of Englishmen, who were supposed to have left home for the Cariboo gold fields, but who on arrival in Victoria decided it was too far to go, and many took up their quarters at Ben Griffin's Boomerang. After the quarterly remittance from home had stopped, which most of them did after a year or two, the remittance men had to look out for situations, or work of some kind, some even having to work on the roads. Still the Boomerang was their headquarters, as there was, with a first-class table, a something of a home (Old Country) in the Boomerang's inner appearance, together with "Mine Host" being a regular John Bull. In those early days of Victoria most of the population were Americans, and these, of course, imported the "saloon," an American institution, where they only dispensed "drinks"; therefore the English Boomerang and its English ale appealed to Englishmen, especially as it was conducted as an inn, where meals could always be obtained. The cook was a Chinaman, who was celebrated as a chef, and was twenty years in Mr. Griffin's kitchen. I might state that among these young Englishmen were many clever amateur actors, and at the Boomerang was formed an Amateur Dramatic Association, of which the writer was a member, as also were many of these young fellows. The inn was the headquarters of the association, and where its meetings were held. "Mine Host" was treasurer, and a very clever actor, too. He was also a poet of no mean order, all his effusions being comic and parodies on Shakespeare's plays, bringing in local politics. These took immensely, and the performances were well patronized, all being for charitable purposes, as this item from The Colonist at the time shows:

"The Royal Hospital Benefit.—The net proceeds from the late performance of the Amateur Dramatic Club for the benefit of the Royal Hospital were $435.45. A check for which amount was yesterday handed to Mr. A. F. Pemberton by Mr. B. P. Griffin, the treasurer of the club. This is a handsome result."

It was at the Boomerang that I saw for the first time ale barrels with grass growing on the top, which was supposed to keep the ale cool.

Many of the patrons of this popular place were, as I have already stated, professional men, lawyers, some of whom were afterwards judges of the Supreme and County Courts, Messrs. McCreight, Wood, Walkem and Courtenay; also of the members of the dramatic club I can remember Messrs. Arthur Keast, W. J. Collingham, Godfrey Brown, Lumley Franklin, Charles Clarke, C. B. Tenniel, Stanhope Farwell, H. C. Courtenay and Josiah Barnett.

I shall close this reminiscence of the old inn, with one of Ben's poetical effusions, entitled "The Merchant of Venice Preserved":

"The Merchant of Venice Preserved"

Antonio's letter from the Capital (New Westminster.)

This shall inform Bassanio that I'm done (J. C. Brown).
My chance is up, my ship, alas! gone down.
The noble vessel, on her homeward way, sir,
Laden with the rich products of the Fraser (Fraser River),
Berries—the famed Sa-lals!—for making jams,
And monster Sturgeon, Cranberries and Clams,
Bumped on the Sands (Fraser), and so a wreck became (Captain, as usual, not at all to blame).
The people here say just as they like,
And lay the blame on Titcombe or on Pike (pilots).
No sympathy I get—to them it's fun,
Alas for me! I'm Capitally done (discussion on Capital going on in papers).
Then my brick stores, on which I fondly thought
For bonded warehouses would soon be sought,
Bring "Narey Red." No revenue they raise,
No ships arriving, no one duty pays!
Some bills, too, which with mortgages I gave,
Have fallen due, nor protest could I save.
No son of Adam e'er came to such harm,
And Adamson's (Sheriff) just seized my Saanich farm.
From sorrow's page I've learned all man can know,
For Cochrane's (Auctioneer) just sold off my grand pi-an-o!
So if with means to aid me you're invested,
Haste, for the Jew won't rest 'till I'm arrested;
I can't defend the case, the cash I own I owe,
Haste then to aid your loving friend—Antonio.

Note—I understand that the Inn is to be permanently closed at the end of the year.

GREECE PREPARES TO INCREASE FLEET

Rear-Admiral Mark Kerr Heads British Mission Which Will Confer With Admiralty on Naval Needs of Country.

Rear Admiral Mark Kerr, C.B., M.V.O., is president of the British mission which will confer with the Greek Ministry on the subject of the naval requirements of the country. Other members are: Colonel Sir Edward Raban, K.C.B., Assistant Paymaster A. C. Winter, Commander R. G. B. Henderson, Commander A. L. Strange, Commander R. C. Hamilton, Commander R. Cardale, Commander G. Wells, Commander G. Leith, Lieut. S. Meyrick, Lieut. H. D. Gill, Ieut. C. P. Pizey, Engineer Capt. James H. Watson, Engineer Commander C. M. G. Bryer, Engineer Ieut. G. Cannon, Assistant Naval Constructor C. W. Kerridge, Assistant Store Officer W. S. Stanton, and Gunners Frederick Moon and George Price.

Every member of the mission will take superior rank in the Greek Navy, and wearing the Greek naval uniform, will exercise executive authority. They will, in short, during the two years of their contract, become an integral and active part of the Greek naval forces.

Admiral Tufnell, who was at the head of the earlier naval mission, rendered services of importance to the Greek Navy, and was largely responsible for the successful manner in which the fleet was handled during the war with Turkey. His success has led the Greeks to desire to obtain a still more efficient staff, to take part in the organization of the new navy.

Greeks Cannot Hesitate

It is impossible to ignore the fact that the redrawing of the map of Europe which has followed the recent war in the Balkans, has made it impossible for the Greeks to hesitate any longer over the increase of their fleet. It is felt that their interests may in future become antagonistic at any moment to those of one of the great powers, and it is in view of this that an extraordinary effort is to be made to place the navy in a position in which it will be able to hold its own. Prince Louis of Battenberg, to whom it fell to select the chief of the mission, in choosing Rear-Admiral Mark Kerr has selected an officer who will certainly be a persona grata in Athens, and he has gone a step further in allowing the admiral to choose his own assistants.

Rear-Admiral Mark Kerr entered the navy in 1877 and served with the naval brigade in Egypt as midshipman, receiving the Khedive's star. In 1886 he was appointed to the Queen's yacht and afterwards served as flag-lieutenant in turn to Sir William Hewlett, Sir John Baird, Sir K. Hoskins, and Sir Edward Seymour. In 1891 he was employed in the war in the Soudan and took part in the advance to Sirkat. He was Prince Louis of Battenberg first lieutenant on board the Cambrian, and later while on the China station was promoted to the rank of commander and placed in command of the east coast flotilla. In 1901 he was gazetted second-in-command to Prince Louis on board the Implacable and served under the present First Sea Lord's command as chief of the staff during the manoeuvres of 1902. In 1903 he became captain and after serving as naval attache in Italy, Austria, Turkey, and Greece, he joined Prince Louis once more on board the Drake as flag-captain. In May, 1913, he was promoted to admiral's rank.

Designed Naval Base

Col. Sir Edward Raeburn was the designer of the great naval base at Rosyth. His appointment was made at the special request of the Government in Athens. His duties will be different from those of the rest of the mission, as they will be devoted to harbor work.

Assistant Paymaster Thomas Winter entered the navy in 1904 and has served in turn on the staff of such well-known officers as Sir Arthur Wilson, Sir Reginald Constance, Lord Charles Beresford and Sir John Jellicoe.

Commander Henderson was gazetted in 1897 and took part in the Boxer rising. His career as a gunnery officer has been a most distinguished one and he became a commander in 1913.

Commander A. L. Strange is also a well-known gunnery officer and served on the staff of Admiral Sir John Callaghan.

Commander Hamilton entered the navy in 1897 and was at Ladysmith throughout the siege with Sir George White. He had had some seven years' experience in the torpedo fleet and became a commander in 1913.

Commander Cardale was a member of Admiral Tufnell's mission and remains on Admiral Kerr's staff at the special request of the Greek Government.

Lieutenant Gill will devote himself particularly to providing Greece with submarines, whilst Lieutenant Pizey is one of the most distinguished members of the admiralty's flying corps, and will assist the Greek admiralty in developing their new naval wing.

Engineer Commander Bryer is one of the ablest fleet engineers in the service, and has distinguished himself under the command of Sir John Jellicoe.

Work of Mission

The specific work of the mission will be the building up of a great Greek fleet. Nothing is so far known as to details, but it is admitted that changes of the most important nature are about to take place, and that Greece is starting on the development of a first-rate fleet.

The fact that the first dreadnought will soon be added to the Grdeek fleet is causing considerable questioning. There is not a single dockyard in the country where it can be accommodated, and it is obvious that if wiser counsels had been employed, instead of an expensive dreadnought, a large number of smaller ships, which would have been much more useful, could have been provided at the same cost.

This is felt so strongly that it is not impossible that the Greek admiralty may make up its mind to forego its purchase. There would be little difficulty in arranging with another power to take over the ship, and this will probably be done.

The New Dublin

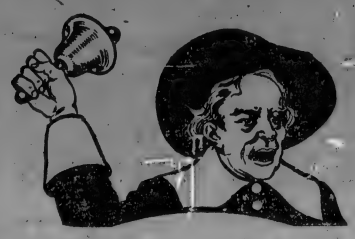

During the last twenty or thirty years Dublin has gradually grown less purely Irish, less national in its tone, than of old. Formerly the average citizen, whatever his view of the Union, regarded Dublin as his capital; today he considers it provincial, say The London Times. Social life in Dublin now is very much like social life in the larger English provincial circles; it is more or less exactly copied from the London model. The ordinary Dubliners of the better class take their amusements from London and arrange their festivities on English lines. The young men and maidens dance the same dances, to the same tunes that are popular in London; those who aspire to culture eagerly devour the works of the fashionable English writers of the moment, and flock to the theatres that, with one exception, of which the average citizen knows little and cares less, provide London plays. And yet in this atmosphere there has grown up a society—small, but not exclusive, only neglected—that is as distinctively Irish as intensely national, as any that Dublin has ever known. The nucleus around which this society has come into existence is twofold; on the one hand, the Irish literary revival, and on the other, the agricultural movement, of which Mr. George Russell and Sir Horace Plunkett are the leaders.

In May, 1913, he was promoted to admiral's rank.

Designed Naval Base

Col. Sir Edward Raeburn was the designer of the great naval base at Rosyth. His appointment was made at the special request of the Government in Athens. His duties will be different from those of the rest of the mission, as they will be devoted to harbor work.

Assistant Paymaster Thomas Winter entered the navy in 1904 and has served in turn on the staff of such well-known officers as Sir Arthur Wilson, Sir Reginald Constance, Lord Charles Beresford and Sir John Jellicoe.

Commander Henderson was gazetted in 1897 and took part in the Boxer rising. His career as a gunnery officer has been a most distinguished one and he became a commander in 1913.

Commander A. L. Strange is also a well-known gunnery officer and served on the staff of Admiral Sir John Callaghan.

Commander Hamilton entered the navy in 1897 and was at Ladysmith throughout the siege with Sir George White. He had had some seven years' experience in the torpedo fleet and became a commander in 1913.

Commander Cardale was a member of Admiral Tufnell's mission and remains on Admiral Kerr's staff at the special request of the Greek Government.

Lieutenant Gill will devote himself particularly to providing Greece with submarines, whilst Lieutenant Pisey is one of the most distinguished members of the admiralty's flying corps, and will assist the Greek admiralty in developing their new naval wing.

Engineer Commander Bryer is one of the ablest fleet engineers in the service, and has distinguished himself under the command of Sir John Jellicoe.

Work of Mission

The specific work of the mission will be the building up of a great Greek fleet. Nothing is so far known as to details, but it is admitted that changes of the most important nature are about to take place, and that Greece is starting on the development of a first-rate fleet.

The fact that the first dreadnought will soon be added to the Grdeek fleet is causing considerable questioning. There is not a single dockyard in the country where it can be accommodated, and it is obvious that if wiser counsels had been employed, instead of an expensive dreadnought, a large number of smaller ships, which would have been much more useful, could have been provided at the same cost.

This is felt so strongly that it is not impossible that the Greek admiralty may make up its mind to forego its purchase. There would be little difficulty in arranging with another power to take over the ship, and this will probably be done.

The New Dublin

During the last twenty or thirty years Dublin has gradually grown less purely Irish, less national in its tone, than of old. Formerly the average citizen, whatever his view of the Union, regarded Dublin as his capital; today he considers it provincial, say The London Times. Social life in Dublin now is very much like social life in the larger English provincial circles; it is more or less exactly copied from the London model. The ordinary Dubliners of the better class take their amusements from London and arrange their festivities on English lines. The young men and maidens dance the same dances, to the same tunes that are popular in London; those who aspire to culture eagerly devour the works of the fashionable English writers of the moment, and flock to the theatres that, with one exception, of which the average citizen knows little and cares less, provide London plays. And yet in this atmosphere there has grown up a society—small, but not exclusive, only neglected—that is as distinctively Irish, as intensely national, as any that Dublin has ever known. The nucleus around which this society has come into existence is twofold; on the one hand, the Irish literary revival, and on the other the agricultural movement, of which Mr. George Russell and Sir Horace Plunkett are the leaders.

WHEAT SUPPLY IS IMPORTANT PROBLEM

Scientist Declares Acreage Is Not Keeping Pace With Increase in Population—Crisis Before End of Century.

Speaking at the British Association meeting at Birmingham, Professor H. N. Dickson, professor of geography at University College, Edinburgh, president of the Royal Meteorological Society, and a recognized authority and writer on meteorological and geographical topics, said the day of striking geographical explorations passed with the finding of the earth's two poles; the geographer of the future would have as his field the vital questions of supplying and distributing food and clothes to the world.

Foremost of these questions, Prof. Dickson believes, will be that of growing wheat enough for the world's bread. A host of problems of the future are marshalled behind this, among them being the questions of obtaining power and energy enough to open to the needed increase in factories, the fuel question and distribution of population.

Within a century, he estimates, the resources of the world will be taxed to their full capacity.

"Civilized man is, or ought to be, beginning to realize," Prof. Dickson said, "that in reducing more and more of the surface of the earth to what he considers a habitable condition he is making so much progress and making it so rapidly that the problem of finding suitable accommodation for his increasing numbers must become urgent within a few generations. We are getting into the position of the merchant whose trade is constantly expanding and who foresees that his premises will shortly be too small for him. In our case removal to more commodious premises elsewhere seems impossible—we are not likely to find a means of migrating to another planet—so we are driven to consider means of rebuilding on the old site and so making the best of what we have that our business may not suffer."

Must Take Stock

Prof. Dickson referred to the wheat acreage as not keeping pace with the increase in population.

"If prophecies, based on population statistics, are trustworthy," he declared, "the crisis will be upon us before the end of the century. After that we must either depend upon some substitute to reduce the consumption per head, or we must take to intensive farming of the most strenuous sort."

As to the world's coal supply, Prof. Dickson said that the largest fields would last barely three centuries, even at the present rate of consumption. Of other fields, yet undiscovered, he could, of course, make no reckoning.

"There must be in the near future," he continued, "a great equalization in the distribution of population. This equalization will arise from a number of causes, among them being intensive cultivation of the soil and more uniform distribution of manufactures.

"What is wanted," he concluded, "is that we should seriously address ourselves to a stock-taking of our resources. We should vigorously proceed with the collection and discussion of geographical data of all kinds so that the major natural distributions shall be adequately known. Eventually we shall find that country-planning will become as important as town-planning. In the meantime geographical knowledge will yield scientific results of much significance about such matters as distribution of population and industries and the degree of adjustment to new conditions which occurs or is possible in different regions and amongst different peoples."

CHATEAUGUAY CAMPAIGN

Both Sides Agree That Majority Will Be Narrow—Conservatives Perfect Organization

OTTAWA, Oct. 2.—At the headquarters of both political parties in Ottawa today confidence was expressed at the outcome of the by-election in Chateauguay a week from Saturday. Both sides agree, however, that, no matter who wins, the majority will not be a large one. Liberals are pinning their faith upon a prediction made by Mr. Robert Ness, a well-known cattleman, who resides in the constituency. He claims a majority of 150 for Hon. Mr. Fisher.

Conservatives, on the other hand, are disposed to believe that much can be made out of the fact that Mr. Fisher is not a resident of the constituency. They believe that Mr. James Morris, the Conservative candidate, will get the votes of many who gave their support to Mr. Brown at the last election. On the other hand, Mr. J. A. McMillan, Liberal member for Glengarry, who is interested in the fight, and who was here today, says that Mr. Fisher will poll the full Liberal vote, which Mr. Brown failed to do in his last fight. He claims a majority of 200 for Mr. Fisher.

So far as can be learned tonight, Premier Borden does not intend to speak in the constituency, and it is not likely that any Quebec members of the Cabinet will take part in the speaking campaign. The Conservatives say that their organization is good, and that they propose to devote their energies to a thorough canvass of the riding.

King Manuel's detained wedding-present

KING MANUEL

A short time ago it was announced from Lisbon that the Portuguese Customs authorities had detained at the quay a large case containing wedding presents for King Manuel, on the ground that certain necessary legal formalities had not been observed; this after the statement that the greatest secrecy was being observed as to the manner in which wedding presents were being sent to King Manuel from Portugal. A great crowd gathered outside the Custom House owing to a rumor that the gift would be examined in public, and when the authorities refused to do so, there was violent uproar, and the military had to be called in to assist the police. The local newspapers said that the matter would be put in the hands of the municipality, as, should it prove true that the inscription on the present was "From the City of Lisbon to Its King," they, as representatives of a republican city, would refuse to allow the gift to be forwarded until the inscription had been removed. Here is illustrated the gift which, it is stated, is, literally, the one in the case. All photographs of it, save this and one almost exactly like it, have been suppressed.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

What Mr. Scholefield Said

Sir,—In an interview which appeared in this morning's Colonist touching my recent visit to the Central Interior of the Province your reporter attributes to me the following statement: "Normal conditions in that country are not at all suited to an office man." This is incorrect. On the contrary, I urged that business men and others should visit the Interior. The average resident of the seaports of British Columbia knows very little of the magnificent resources, climate and scenery of the great Interior of the Province. Your reporter also refers to my experience in "the roughest country in the Province." As a matter of fact, the Central Interior is a fine country in every way, and not "rough" in the ordinary sense of the term.

E. O. S. SCHOLEFIELD.

Lien Actions

Sir,—Might I be allowed a space to correct a slip in your Legal Intelligence column this morning, which might otherwise give a false impression?

Under the heading "Baker et al vs. Uplands," you report an application to extend the time in which to appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada. No such application was made in this case, although a similar application was made in the case of "Goodacre vs. Uplands," in which the same counsel were engaged.

The Baker case is one of a number of lien actions, and we do not propose to appeal from the decision of the court in any of the lien actions, but intend to pay the full amount of all liens upheld by the Court of Appeal directly the bills of costs are taxed and the amount payable by us is known.

There are a number of people interested in these cases, and they might be misled by the mistake in question, hence this letter.

None of the people claiming liens are parties to the other case, which is going to the Supreme Court of Canada.

Fruit-Growing on the Island

Sir,—It was my pleasure to read in The Colonist of September 27 an editorial entitled, "Fruit on the Island."

It is an ever-increasing source of wonder to the writer that the possibilities of fruit-growing on the Island are so little appreciated and so little developed. There are few fruit-growing districts on the American Continent where better yields or better fruit can be obtained from an orchard than can be obtained here, and still fewer are the fruit-growing districts that are as free from serious plant diseases and insect pests.

It is true that some varieties of apples do not do well on the Island, but the same thing can be said of every fruit-growing district on the Continent, and there are varieties of apples, and some of the choicest, that find an ideal environment here on Vancouver Island, and reach a state of perfection not attained elsewhere. As to pears, plums, prunes, cherries and small fruits, there is not a better place for these on the Pacific Coast.

In your editorial you mention the Duchess apple as being especially adapted to the Island. The writer has visited and worked in the best fruit-growing districts of the United States and Canada, and nowhere else has he seen the Duchess apple do so well and reach the degree of perfection that it does here; and he can say the same thing for the Wealthy apple. Other varieties that do especially well on the Island are King, Grimes' Golden, Gravenstein, Wagner, Northern Spy and Ben Davis.

As an example of what can be done on the Island, the writer can vouch for the following: Dr. Rutherford, of Duncan, Vancouver Island, harvested forty boxes of Duchess apples this Fall from fifty trees; the trees are seven years old. The apples were 100 per cent clean, there were no culls, and no No. 2 apples. Another orchard that is making a record for itself is that of Mr. F. A. Woods, also at Duncan.

When it is possible to get such results from an orchard on the Island, one wonders why it is that the fruit-growing industry is so neglected that Victoria is importing a large part of the deciduous fruit that it consumes.

TREMOR RECORDED HERE

Victoria Instruments Give Plain Records of Earthquake in Panama Canal Zone

The earthquake which caused so much consternation in the Panama Canal zone on Wednesday night, but which apparently did little physical damage to the canal structures, was recorded in Victoria on the Milne seismograph, which is set up in the basement of the Marine and Fisheries Building on Wharf Street.

"The earth tremors of every seismic disturbance are recorded twice on our instrument," said Mr. Napier Denison, of the Meteorological Department last night. "The course of the first wave to reach this city would be directly through the dense strata of the interior of the earth. These earth waves have been calculated by seismologists to travel at a speed of about two and a quarter miles a second, and as the path of the wave would, by this route, measure about 1,350 miles, we would naturally expect to see the recorded trace of this wave about ten minutes after the disturbance occurred. The surface wave which travels over the earth's crust would naturally be less attenuated on its arrival, but as it would have to travel 4,000 miles, the surface distance between this city and Panama, it would not be recorded on the seismograph until thirty minutes after the disturbance.

"There is a difference of three hours between the 120th Meridian time used in Victoria and the Panama time, the canal being practically on the same meridian as Washington, U.S.A. The first wave reached this city at 8:40 p.m., Pacific time, which would be 11:40 p.m., Eastern time, and the second wave arrived twenty minutes later. This agrees with the time recorded in the telegraphic dispatches which reached the city yesterday."

With regard to the probability of further earth tremors visiting this zone in the near future, Mr. Denison pointed out that Panama, from its geographical location, seemed peculiarly liable to seismic disturbance, lying as it does within both of the great earthquake orbits of the world, the first of which extends along the Pacific Coast as far South as the Andes in South America, while the other follows the Equator round the earth.

BANK ROBBERY CASE

Seven Witnesses Testify at Hearing of Charge Against Dean at New Westminster

NEW WESTMINSTER, Oct. 2.—Seven witnesses were examined and cross-examined here today during the hearing of the charge against Dean of robbing the Bank of Montreal.

Five of them were from Detroit, and spoke of matters in reference to the arrest of Martin Powell, who has not yet been placed on trial; another was the district registrar; while the last witness was the only one who had to give any direct testimony as to Dean. He spoke of the renting by the latter of the house at the corner of Broadway and Pine Avenue, in Vancouver.

So far, the stage of hearing of direct evidence against Dean has not been reached. From the evidence given by two of the Detroit police officers, it appeared that at the time Powell was arrested, in 1912, they did not know of the robbery of the bank. The constable who arrested Powell did so, not because of the robbery, but because he doubted the genuineness of the notes Powell had in his possession.

CARNIVAL CONCERT

Everything Points to Success of Tonight's Masquerade at the Arena

Final arrangements were made yesterday for the Carnival Concert at the Arena tonight. Seats will be reserved on the right of the Arena, in the centre, for the Lieutenant-Governor and party, the Lady Patronesses, the Ladies' Committee and the judges. As no other seats are reserved, all members of the Citizens' Committee and its associated sub-committees are requested to be at the Arena at 7 o'clock to take care of and direct the early rush of the public.

On the ground floor are the cloak rooms for ladies to the left, for gentlemen to the right, where those in fancy costume will leave their wraps. The green rooms for the artistes taking part are on the right. Those in fancy costume or evening dress may at once enter the Arena, where there are some seats, but promenading will cease during each number of the programme. Masks are optional. No serpentines will be permitted.

The programme will be an excellent one, the best local artistes having been engaged. The Fifth Regiment Band will render selections during the evening.

CHURCH DEDICATION

New Burnside Methodist Edifice Opened With Appropriate Services

The Burnside Methodist Church, recently built in the record time of two and one-half days, was dedicated last Sunday morning. Rev. C. T. Scott, D.D., preached the dedication sermon to a crowded church. The sermon was followed by the impressive dedicatory service of the Methodist Church, in charge of Rev. Robert Wilkinson, chairman of the Victoria District of the B. C. Conference. On Tuesday evening the church banquet was held and was served in the large tent, tables being set three times to accommodate the people. The Ladies' Aid of Burnside Church were assisted by the aids of the other Methodist churches in the city. After the banquet, a first-class concert was given in the church.

During the evening $282 was raised for the cause under the direction of the chairman of the evening, Rev. Thomas Green, who also is superintendent of the Burnside Church by appointment of conference. The generosity of the people during the evening practically starts the Burnside church free from debt.

Last Sunday seventy-six were present in the Sunday school, and the congregations are growing. At present preaching services are held every Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, and Sunday school at 2:30 o'clock.

In the next few days the Methodists anticipate the erection of anothuer church similar to the above, in the Oaklands district, near the pumping station on North Quadra Street. The tent which has so faithfully served Burnside Church will be used for the extension of the Shoal Bay Methodist Church.

TRIBUTE OF THANKS FROM NEW ZEALAND

Earl of Liverpool Cables Captain Halsey at Callao in Appreciation of Provincial Presentation.

New Zealand's tribute of thanks to the Province of British Columbia for the manner in which she received the great battle-cruiser contributed to imperial defence by the Island commonwealth has just come to hand in the form of a cable sent by the Earl of Liverpool, Governor, to Captain Halsey, commander of the ship. The cable was received by Captain Halsey at Callal, near Panama, and was in the following terms:

"Desire to convey to you satisfaction and appreciation of government and people of New Zealand at kindly act on the part of British Columbia in regard to their presentation.

(Sgd.) LIVERPOOL,
Governor."

Captain Halsey sent a copy of the cable to Lieut.-Governor Paterson, and having been handed over to the Government, it was given out to The Colonist yesterday for publication by the Hon. Dr. Young.

JAPANESE IN FIELD

Much Tonnage Flying Nippon Flag Will Be Seen on Pacific in Near Future

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—Freight carriers flying the Japanese flag will be quite familiar on the Pacific Coast in the near future, according to K. Nagashima, local manager of Mitsui & Co., who returned on the Tenyo Maru from a five months' visit to Japan. Owing to the condition of the charter market in the Far East, Japanese owners may deem it advisable to send some of their tonnage here, seeking business, says Nagashima.

Reports indicate that the movement of new crop cotton to Japan this season will total 400,000 bales, a much heavier export than usual of this product. In order to properly handle the movement additional tonnage, outside of the Pacific Mail and Toyo Kisen Kaisha steamers, will be required and it is predicted that Japan owned bottoms will be among the vessels impressed to move the increase.

Mr. Nagashima reports that his company contemplates sending some of its carriers here in the future. As the cargoes offer in the Far East and charters are forthcoming on the Coast the vessels will be dispatched, although no regular schedule will be attempted. The Japanese have been heavy buyers of second-hand British tonnage during the past year and a number of these vessels are expected to make their appearance on the North Pacific.

WORK OF IMPROVING PORT NELSON HARBOR

Large Force Engaged on Construction at Terminal on Hudson Bay—Proposal to Build Breakwater.

Mr. H. E. Penrose, writing from Fort Nelson to the Winnipeg Free Press, says: Amongst Canada's great engineering achievements—and these are not a few—the completion of the harbor at Port Nelson will probably rank with the foremost. Whilst the site and climatic conditions of the harbor are by no means perfect, the difficulties are being gradually surmounted; step by step accurate survey and charting have been accomplished, and with the mass of information obtained, plans have been drawn up and the work of construction begun.

Entering the river off Marsh Point, where a beacon has been constructed, the channel is buoyed to the site of the present construction camp, some twelve miles up stream, where a small temporary wharf has been erected and equipped with a derrick for landing the large and bulky supplies brought up by the Government ships. The work of landing is performed by the schooner Neophyte, the tug Kathleen, and a small flotilla of gasoline launches, scows, and craft of various kinds and sizes.

The larger ships are anchored in the river in from four to eight fathoms, and there is eight miles of this anchorage from the inner buoy to the outer buoy, situated about nine and three-quarters miles off Marsh Point beacon, where there in a depth of nine-tenths fathoms of water.

Proposed Breakwaters

At a point about fifteen miles up the river it has been suggested to build two breakwaters to protect wharfs and harbor works from ice coming down stream and in some degree break the force of the current, which averages about four knots, what a maximum of six knots on Spring tide ebbs. There is a rise and fall of as much as eighteen feet during Spring tides in October, with a minimum of eleven feet during neaps.

Below these breakwaters it is proposed to build an elevator capable of dealing with large quantities of grain at a rapid rate, and a channel dredged to enable ships of moderate tonnage to come alongside. It has also been suggested to use floating elevators either separately or in conjunction with the larger one on shore.

It is certain, however, that a considerable amount of dredging will have to be carried on here and at other points in the river.

Track is being laid and a "dinky" engine with trucks has been brought up to aid in the work of construction.

At some distance back from the river the construction camp is situated.

Wireless Station

Close to this the site for the wireless station for communicating with Le Pas has been selected.

At the present time there are about 200 men under canvas, engaged in work of all kinds. The unloading of ships goes on day and night.

With regard to climatic and hydrographic conditions of Port Nelson and its approaches, much has been written, and many arguments quoted for and against its ultimate success, but notwithstanding the pessimistic opinions and cheerless predictions of those opposed to the scheme, the fact remains that the little tug Kathleen and the schooner Neophyte, piloted by the Bellaventure and Bonaventure respectively, passed through th straits in July, whilst the Alcazar, an iron built cargo boat, arrived at Port Nelson early in August, with a load of timber for construction purposes.

With the erection of the high power wireless station at Nelson in conjunction with the proposed chain along the bay to the entrance of the strait, and possibly a government scout operating along the track, masters of incoming vessels would be in possession of full information regarding the condition of the route many hours before entering the straits.

Passenger Service

Although at the present time little or no accommodation is being provided for discharging ships (a large import trade not being anticipated), there is no reason why provision should not be made in the future if the demand arises. There is also the possibility of a transatlantic passenger service, with a cheaper fare from the West than via Montreal, but these, of course, are secondary considerations to the grain proposition.

Up to the present a certain amount of prejudice has been felt against Hudson Straits. It was unchartered, and very little of the existing conditions known, except at the Hudson's Bay Company's posts, which knowledge never appears to have been published.

It was not so many years ago the Persian gulf was looked upon as being one of the worst places for navigation, but cargo was offered, ships went, and today there is a large trade in that direction.

The Bay of Biscay still has its terrors to many travellers, but it is the last remains of an old prejudice which arose in the time of sailing ships, when it often took a week and more to cross, during which time it was highly probable something of Atlantic unpleasantness would manifest itself.

With the march of time old prejudices die out to give way to the necessities of modern life, and our fears of today are laughed at tomorrow.

MAMMOTH FOUND IN ICE

Specimen of Ancient Animal Presented to Natural History Museum of Paris

Count Stenbock Fermor, of the Island of Great Lyakersky, New Siberia, has presented to the natural history museum in Paris what is considered to be the finest specimen of a mammoth yet found.

The gift is especially interesting because the animal had not finished digesting his last meal at the moment of his death, couteless centuries ago. Thus the savants are for the first time, able to study accurately the nature of the flora of the far distant epoch. He was found in an absolutely complete condition in a strata of ice. The skin, which is without a scratch, is covered with reddish hair, thick and soft to the touch as that of a lap dog. The work of digging out the monster from his primeval cold storage and taking him to Paris was one of extreme difficulty. The body was cut carefully into pieces, each one labeled, and then carried 1,500 miles to a railway line on dog sledges.

The museum has come into possession of the skeleton of an enormous dinosaurus found near Majunga, on the west coast of Madagascar, by the explorer Perrier de la Batie. Some idea of the dimensions of this monster may be gained from the fact that a strong man can barely lift one section of the vertebrae. Although only partially disinterred, the natural history experts of the museum estimate from measurements of the parts they already have that this dinosaurian considerably exceeds in size the diplodocus, a plaster cast of which Mr. Carnegie gave the museum.

Another acquisition is the skeleton of one of the fabulous birds known to palaeontologists as aplornis, which stood eighteen feet tall.

HALIFAX WINTER PORT

Four Largest Steamers in Canadian-Atlantic Service Will Not Call at St. John

HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 2.—Messrs. T. A. S. Dewolf & Son, agents of the C. P. R. at this port, last night received the following telegram from the vice-president of the C. P. R. at Montreal:

"It has been decided by this company and the Allan line to make Halifax their terminal port of call this Winter for the mail steamers, Empress of Ireland and Empress of Britain, the Alsatian and Calgarian, sailing from Halifax on Saturdays. These steamers will not run to St. John.

It is presumed that the other steamers of these lines will go to St. John, and it means that Halifax handles the mails, passengers and cargoes of these four largest ships in the Canadian-Atlantic service, inward and outward, for the next five or six months.

RESCUED IN MID-OCEAN

Crew of Steamer Templemore, Which Was Destroyed by Fire, Landed at Baltimore

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 2.—Fifty-four shipwrecked persons from the British freight steamer Templemore, which was burned at sea, eight hundred miles east of Virginia Capes, were brought here tonight by the steamer Arcadia. No lives were lost. The hulk of the burned vessel is believed now to be beneath the waters of the Atlantic. The value of the vessel and cargo is estimated at $700,000, covered by insurance.

Captain Isaac Jones, of the Templemore, said the fire was discovered late Monday night in the hold where cotton was stored. The holds were flooded, but despite this the fire reached some oil in the cargo and a terrific explosion occurred. The wireless operator flashed the signal and the Arcadia, fifty miles away responded that she was coming at full speed.

Meantime the fire spread so rapidly that all on board had to take to the lifeboats. A storm was raging, and the undertaking was hazardous, but was made in safety. The men spent several hours in the small boats before they could be picked up by the Arcadia.

When the Arcadia started toward Baltimore the Templemore was aflame from bow to stern.

To Recognize Mongolia

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 2.—The new Chinese Foreign Minister has opened negotiations with the Russian Foreign Ministry in relation to the conclusion of a three-fold treaty between Russia, China and Mongolia, providing for the recognition of the independence of a united Mongolia under the rule of the Kutuku, or Khen Mongolia, and subject to the suzerainty of China.

MATTERS OF MOMENT IN WOMEN'S REALM

An Important Amendment

The women of Canada, as represented by the Women's Council, have had much influence in procuring certain amendments to the Criminal Code of Canada. These changes are designed for the better protection of women and children.

Among these is one that will be of interest to charitable workers in our city. Under the amended law it is a crime for a man to desert his family. It is only necessary to prove that a man has left his family in order to secure a conviction. This change in the law ought to have some influence in preventing an evil that is becoming far too common in all Canadian cities.

The very fact that a man becomes a criminal when he leaves his wife and children to bear the punishment for his folly or his wickedness, while he lives in comparative comfort elsewhere, may prevent this most cowardly of offences.

It must be remembered, however, that no penalty, however severe, will avail to preserve love and harmony in a family. The home in which either husband or wife is forced, through fear of punishment, to fulfil the duties due to each other may be a place impossible to live in.

Young women who trust their future happiness to men about whom they know little have themselves to blame for a share of the misery that so often follows a hasty union. Wives who neglect their children or their work, who do not try to bear trouble cheerfully, may add to their own troubles.

A law, however well intentioned or however well enforced, cannot take the place of love or bring about the harmony which is its fruit. But such a law may prevent innocent children from suffering and neglect, and for this the people of Canada should be grateful to the Government.

Children on the Land

Three children in the neighboring state of Washington, the oldest 14 and the youngest 12, we are told by The Portland Telegram, have raised 300 bushels of corn on three acres of ground.

In many other states of the Union there are boys and girls' "corn clubs," and children are vying with each other in cultivating the land and in rearing pet animals.

In the neighborhood of Victoria there is much gardening done. Small fruits, flowers and many vegetables can be raised as easily as anywhere in the world. Yet it is seldom that children take any part in this work.

Is it not quite as important that we, on Vancouver Island, should make the most of our horticultural resources as that Washington should develop its farming lands? If they were encouraged to do so, boys and girls would be proud to raise the finest strawberries in the home garden or to cultivate flowers. There is no reason why they should not acquire a love for such work, except that their mothers and fathers are foolish enough to think that all the work of the family must be done by its grown-up members.

On the farms in Eastern Canada every child had his share of the work to do. He went to school, but he did not spend all the afternoon in play. Will the city-bred children, who do not contribute to the well-being and prosperity of the home, grow up either as self-reliant or as unselfish as the men and women who are doing the work of the country today?

Camp Fire Girls

The people of the United States, as of many other nations, have adopted from Great Britain the Boy Scout organization, and the Chief Scout has recognized the movement by visiting the various patrols in the large cities across the border.

It is possible that we in Canada would profit by following the example of those who have formed the girls of the towns into clubs for outdoor exercise and amusement.

There are in the United States 60,000 Camp Fire Girls. These young people have a uniform and a ritual of their own. Their chief purpose seems to be to cultivate a love of nature and of outdoor life. By these means, many girls spend happy days and nights by the lakeside or seashore or in the woods who would otherwise have spent the whole Summer in the city.

There is much healthy fun in the camp, and every girl learns to be useful and resourceful. There is a little more romance and a little more sentiment among the Camp Fire Girls than is the case with the Boy Scouts, but this is as it should be. Under good leaders this organization should be helpful, especially for girls engaged in indoor occupations.

CANADIAN NAVAL BILL

Ottawa Paper Says It Is Believed Measure Will Be Reintroduced Next Session

OTTAWA, Oct. 2.—The Evening Citizen says: "There is every reason to believe the Canadian National policy and further action by the Government in respect to it is under advisement by the Cabinet.

"The impression is growing that the Naval Bill of last season will be reintroduced, but as to that there is yet no official statement.

"In view of all the circumstances, the naval situation unquestionably will be discussed next session, and that the bill as it stands will be re-introduced, is believed in many circles close to the Ministry."

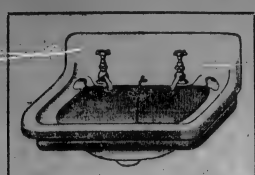

M. Gorky's Condition Serious

NAPLES, Oct. 2.—Maxim Gorky, the Russian novelist, who lives at a villa on the Island of Capri, is so ill with tuberculosis that he has been obliged to come here and submit to a special cure.

Sunday School Banquet—This evening at 6 o'clock the annual banquet of the First Baptist Sunday School will be held in the old church building. TACOMA LEADS WAY TO PORT

Disrupted Osaka Shosen Kaisha Service Resumed With the Arrival of Japanese Liner From the Orient.

CANADA MARU BERTHS HERE THIS FORENOON

In Order to Regain Schedule Canada Will Be Dispatched Outward Within Week of Arrival.

Maintaining her one-day lead over the delayed steamship Canada Maru, the Osaka Shosen Kaisha liner Tacoma Maru made port yesterday forenoon, thus re-establishing the disrupted service of the Japanese company following the detention of the former steamer by the quarantine authorities in the Orient.

Captain Hamada brought the news that the Canada Maru was held at Kobe owing to the discovery that a female Japanese first-class passenger had contracted cholera during the run from Hongkong, and, as further cases developed among six members of the crew, the Japanese quarantine doctors considered it advisable to hold the Canada seventeen days, after which time she was granted a clean bill of health and allowed to proceed to Yokohama. The cholera victims were transferred ashore, and it has since been learned that all have recovered.

While Captain Hori, of the Canada, was fuming over the enforced delay, the Tacoma Maru overhauled the quarantined vessel and sailed from Yokohama just twenty-two hours ahead of the steamer, which, under ordinary circumstances, would have been discharging at ports on this Coast.

In Constant Touch

As it was, the two vessels were in constant wireless communication throughout the transpacific run, but, as the average speed of the boats in this service is twelve knots, the Canada was unable to get in closer contact with her rival.

Wireless advices from the Canada last night indicated that she would take up her berth here early this morning. She will sail outward for the Orient on October 10 in order that she may catch up with her schedule.

The Tacoma Maru reported an uneventful trip. Early on the morning of the second day out she encountered rough seas, the force of which spent itself on the port quarter, and on the evening of September 20 heavy rain squalls made things a trifle unpleasant. About midnight on September 22 the liner again ran into an exceptionally choppy sea, with the wind beating down on the starboard bow. During the night the ship labored heavily, and early the following day the vessel rolled and pitched, to the discomfort of all on board. On September 28 the wind shifted to south by southwest, and further rain storms were encountered. Later on in the day big seas were shipped forward. About noon on Wednesday heavy fog set in, but the progress of the Tacoma was not materially delayed. She made port from Yokohama in fifteen days, eleven hours.

Stowaways Discovered

Five Japanese stowaways were discovered secreted away in crevices under the vessel's boilers just prior to the departure of the Tacoma Maru from Yokohama, and they were promptly placed ashore. It is invariably the rule to make a thorough search for stowaways on all Japanese ships prior to their departure from the Japan coast.

There appears to be a falling off in travel from the Orient by Japanese lines, the Tacoma having only seventy-three passengers all told. Of this number, eleven Japanese, three Chinese, one Russian and eleven Hindus left the ship at this port, and forty-five Japanese and two Russians continued their passage to Tacoma.

The local immigration officials were given a great deal of trouble with the Hindus, the latter, although claiming to be returns, not having with them the necessary identification papers. It was subsequently decided to hold the Hindus in the immigration building pending the arrival, from Vancouver, of Mr. Hopkinson, the Hindu interpreter. The Russian, who was on his way to join his brother in the interior, was also allowed to disembark after the nature of his mission had been explained by a fellow-countryman to the satisfaction of the immigration officials.

The Japanese liner discharged 251 tons of Oriental cargo at the Outer Docks. For Seattle she had 103 tons, and for Tacoma and overland points she carried 3,193 tons, including a shipment of 415 bales of raw silk, valued at $207,500.

The Canada Maru is expected to reach the William Head quarantine station at 6:30 o'clock this morning, and will come alongside about two hours later.

Craighall Gets Away

The British steamer Craighall, Captain Stephenson, has departed from the Columbia for Yokohama, Kobe and Shanghai with a cargo of lumber amounting to 3,666,975 feet. The Craighall brought Cuban sugar from Matanzas for the B. C. Sugar refinery.

Huntsman's Position

The Harrison Direct liner Huntsman, Captain Goldman, has arrived on Puget Sound, where she will bunker before going on to San Francisco to complete cargo for the United Kingdom. The liner brought general cargo here from Liverpool and Glasgow and loaded some thousands of cases of salmon outwards. She will complete with heavy shipments of canned fruits at San Francisco.

Bark Which Made Fast Trip Up From Callao

ISABEL BROWNE

ISABEL BROWNE IN FROM CALLAO

Russian Windjammer Surprised Shipping Men by Unexpectedly Showing Up Off Race Rocks Under Full Sail.

Scudding along before a fair wind under full sail, the big three-masted Russian bark, Isabel Browne, Captain Eriksson, poked her bow around the Race Rocks shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon and dropped anchor in the Royal Roads, completing a fast passage of fifty-two days from Callao. The windjammer is under charter to load lumber at Hastings Mill for South Africa, and will go on berth immediately after she has discharged her ballast.

In reaching port yesterday, the Isabel Browne sprung a great surprise on the shipping community as she had not even been reported clearing the West Coast port through reliable shipping channels. She made Callao on June 29 with a cargo of coal from Newcastle, N. S. W., and after completing her discharge and taking on ballast, again put to sea on August 11 for Victoria.

Two Days Off Flattery

Captain Eriksson reports that he experienced fine weather all the way up the coast until two days ago, until the entrance to the Straits of Juan de Fuca was sighted, when strong easterly winds kept the ship beating offshore. Early yesterday morning the weather moderated enough to allow the vessel to pass in, and with no tugs in sight, she was piloted at a merry clip up the Straits to a safe anchorage.

With the Isabel Browne safely anchored, Captain Eriksson retired to his bunk with the specific intention of sleeping off the effects of a twenty-four hour watch. It is expected that the bark will get away today for Vancouver.

The next sailer to put in an appearance will be the British bark Pollalloch, Captain Armstrong, which is now 10b days out from Port Natal. She will, in all probability, be followed by the big schooner Inca, Captain Rasmussen, now northbound from Australia. The Inca is now forty-five days out from Newcastle.

DRIFTED ON ROCKS

Schooner Gamble Narrowly Escaped Being Lost When Hawser Parted

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 2.—For a few tense moments yesterday afternoon it looked as though the four-masted wooden schooner Gamble would be dashed to pieces and the lives of her crew, perhaps, lost on the rocks in the Potato Patch. The little lumber carrier was being towed out on the way to Port Gamble by the tug Sea Fox when the hawser parted. Before Captain H. C. Lund could make sail sufficient to take advantage of the slight breeze the vessel had gone dangerously near the breakers.

Just when it seemed as though the big seas would sweep the helpless vessel on the shore, the tug, with the assistance of the power boat from Point Bonita life-saving station, succeeded in kettling a line fast and pulled the Gamble out of the precarious position. The Gamble, which was in ballast, pounded the surf for an hour before being towed into deep water by a tug.

The Gamble was able to continue her voyage without putting back into port, as no serious damage was done.

FRENCH LINE TO OPPOSE UNION CO.

New Service Will Compete With Australian and Oceanic Companies for Pacific Trade —St. Paul to Lead Fleet.

The Compagnie Navale de l'Oceanic is the name of a new French steamship company which plans to operate a line of fast steamers between San Francisco and the ports of Papeete, Tahiti and Noumea, in the British West Indies. This line will enter competition with the Union Steamship Company of New Zealand, operating the Canadian-Australian Line, which operates a fleet composed of the steamers Tahiti, Willochra and Moana, to San Francisco, and the Oceanic Steamship Company, which operates the Sonoma and Ventura.

The agents for the French line are Hind, Rolph & Co., and operations will begin in the near future. The first of the steamers to arrive will be the French steamship St. Paul. This vessel is reported to have departed from Noumea and will reach San Francisco late this month. Inasmuch as the steamer will arrive on this Coast during the height of the canning season, it is predicted that the vessel will carry a full cargo on her initial trip in the new service.

To Emulate Harrison Line

The programme to be followed by the French line will be similar to that which marked the establishment of the Harrison Direct Line to San Francisco and British Columbia. In the beginning the backers of the French company will reach out for freight. Upon the success of these efforts depends the future passenger operations of the line. If its plans work out as expected, the new company will be ready, when the Panama Canal opens, to put a number of steamers, carrying both freight and passengers, on the Panama run. The St. Paul will be followed by other steamers of the French line, and it is expected that the two other companies operating between this Coast and the South Seas will meet with stubborn opposition.

Steamer City of Puebla Reaches Port With Passengers From Golden Gate

With a large list of passengers and 225 tons of general cargo, the American steamer City of Puebla, of the Pacific Coast fleet, arrived in port about 2 o'clock this morning, from San Francisco. The Puebla met with head seas on the passage up from the Golden Gate which delayed her several hours.

CANADA CAPE ARRIVES

The British steamer Canada Cape, which is coming to British Columbia ports to relieve the regular Canadian-Australian steamers in the freight carrying trade, for the Union Steamship Company of New Zealand, has arrived at San Francisco, and should reach here upward the end of next week.

The Canada Cape brought 3,500 tons of coal, 600 tons of frozen meats and a quantity of hardwood logs.

With the completion of her overhaul the C. P. R. steamer Princess Beatrice will replace the steamer Princess Mary on the Granby Bay run. The Princess Mary will be off the run for two weeks.

THOUGHT SHE WAS TAKING UMATILLA

Unsuspecting Lady Passenger Boarded Liner Marama at Outer Docks and Is Now Making Long Sea Trip.

Steaming across the far reaches of the broad Pacific on board the steamship Marama, is a lone passenger who, up to the time of the big liner's departure, had not the slightest intention of making the long passage to the Antipodes. Just prior to the sailing of the Marama on Wednesday night, a fashionably attired young lady boarded the vessel which, she imagined, was the Pacific Coast steamer Umatilla, bound for San Francisco. How she managed to get by the ticket collector at the bottom of the gangway, without being informed of her mistake, is a complete mystery, as every precaution is always taken to identify outgoing passengers by their transportation tickets. However, the fair one succeeded in making the decks of the Australian liner, and by the time she was given the opportunity to ask one of the stewards for the location of her stateroom, the Marama was well out in the straits, and the passenger was given to understand that she might as well make the best of the circumstances and resign herself to the long sea trip ahead of her.

The unwilling passenger was Miss Nellie Stone, of Oakland, Cal., who had been visiting at the home of Mr. John Evans, at Somenos, near Duncans, B. C., and on Wednesday night was intending to take passage by the Umatilla to San Francisco.

Wireless Contained News

First news of Miss Stone's predicament was conveyed to Victoria yesterday morning in a wireless message from Captain Rolls, to the C. P. R. offices here, stating that she had boarded the Marama thinking that she was on the boat for San Francisco.

As the Marama does not include San Francisco in her itinerary, Miss Stone will either be taken on to Honolulu, and transferred to one of the regular California boats, or will continue the passage to Sydney and return by the Marama. If she elects to go to Sydney, the Canadian-Australian company will be bound to carry her the round trip free of charge, but, providing that she takes the San Francisco boat from Honolulu, the first port of call to Australia, doubtless the fare between the two points will have to be paid.

Anyway, Miss Stone has a delightful, although unexpected, holiday ahead of her, but for the diligence of the officer at the gangway, many other San Francisco-bound passengers would have been in a similar plight, as a large number were turned back by the inspectors. The fact that the Umatilla was due to sail from an adjoining pier at the same time, and the unusual rush attending the departure of the Marama, was responsible for the mistaken identity in boats.

The relatives of Miss Stone have been advised, and the wires are now being kept hot directing the future movements of the unwilling passenger.

PROPERTY FOR SALE

TWO good lots from owner obliged to sell; one at the Gorge and one a block from Normal School; no agents. Apply Box 1728, Colonist.

THERE is a growing disposition on the part of wise investors to put their money either in revenue-producing property, or to invest where income can be relied on. The purchase of lots on extended system is altogether too speculative for the small investor, and it is doubtful whether (in this town) values in outside properties will ever jump as they did previous to 1913. A Trust Company can offer many advantages to conservative investors. We are prepared to take large or small sums on deposit, withdrawable at three months' notice, and guarantee you repayment of principal and punctual payment of interest, allowing 8 per cent per annum. We can also find you good mortgages and agreements to net 8 per cent to 15 per cent. At the present time we can place sums from $500 to $10,000 on first mortgages, with 50 to 60 per cent cover. Our directors are men of integrity, whose bona fides will bear investigation. If you are interested see the Manager, 212 Belmont Building, or phone 3843.

STRONGER TONE IN STOCK MARKET

Offerings Are Small and Prices Advance Slowly Upward—Gains Recorded by Prominent Shares.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Stocks crept up slowly today. There was no urgent bidding and speculation was quiet with long periods of stagnation, but the undertone was firm and offerings of the stocks were small. The market grew stronger as the day advanced. C. P. R. was marked up 3½, Amalgamated, the leader in yesterday's market, rose two points and Steel, Reading, Union Pacific and various other prominent shares were raised a point or more.

The advance in the Bank of England's discount rate from 4½ to 5 per cent was followed by a slight hardening in the money rates and a sharp rise in exchange of London. Virtually no influence was exerted on speculative sentiment by the increase in the English bank rate. The weekly report of the bank offered plenty of evidence of reasons which were responsible for the change. Although the proportion of the reserves to liabilities remains considerably above the average for this season, the return was distinctly unfavorable. The loss of over $15,000,000 gold on the week was almost unprecedented and reserves showed a falling off of over $20,000,000. The Bank of Germany's report reflected the strain of the quarterly settlement in an increase of $121,000,000 in loans and discount.

The bond market was steady. Southern Pacific 4's rose 2 points. Total sales (par value) $1,295,000. U. S. bonds 4's registered sold 109½, unchanged on call, but a decline of ½ from the last actual sale and a new low record. The 2's registered declined ½ on call.

LONDON EXCHANGE

LONDON, Oct. 2.—Money was in strong demand today. Discount rates were up to the bank rate. The 5 per cent bank rate came as a surprise to the money market and the stock exchange, but the appearance of the unfavorable weekly returns, showing the large decrease of over £4,000,000 on the reserve, made apparent the necessity for the protective measure.

Consols declined ⅛ and recovered later, but C. P. R., Rio Tintos and other Paris favorites were strong early, all dropped on the increased rate and the uncertainties of the Near East situation. The market closed irregular with Brazilian bonds weak and Mexican Rails in good demand. The market closed steady.

American securities opened steady and a fraction higher. Fair buying appeared during the forenoon and stocks advanced under the lead of Amalgamated and C. P. R.; the latter gained 2⅜.

GRAIN MARKETS

WINNIPEG, Man. Oct. 2.—The Winnipeg market opened ⅛c to ¼c down and weak in tone while American markets were slightly stronger. Liverpool opened slightly higher on reports of drought damage in the Argentine, but pressure of Russian and Canadian offerings made a decline on a dull market. Strength held, however, and the closing ⅛ to ⅜ higher.

There was a good demand locally for No. 1 Northern, but apparently there was no other grade badly wanted.

Receipts of wheat were 1,145 cars, of which 114 were contract grades, the percentage of No. 2 Northern showing a decided increase. The total of cars of all grains in sight for Thursday was 1,575.

It would be difficult for any market to withstand this pressure and Winnipeg was decidedly weak in tone during the session until near the close when slight advance occurred. The close was ⅛ higher.

Reports from Buffalo show that the harbor is well congested, there being a large amount of grain for local trade which is not yet unloaded.

There was not much interest in oats. Receipts were fair. Options closed ⅛ to ¼ lower and cash oats unchanged to ⅛ lower.

There was a decline in the price of old flax, ¾ to 1c.

Minneapolis market had a range of ⅞ and closed ⅝ to 1c higher. Winnipeg cash market closed ¼ down on all contract grades.

MONTREAL STOCKS

MONTREAL, Oct. 2.—C. P. R. was a strong stock today and its sharp advance both in London and New York had a steadying influence on the local market. The rise of over three points in the international leader, however, stimulated no great activity in other stocks, with the exception of Montreal Power which rose 1¼ and closed at the high.

More than three-quarters of the day's transactions were in the two stocks named and Toronto Rails. Power was firm at 214 in the morning or ⅛ up from the previous day and rose to 215¼ in the afternoon. Rails advanced to 144¾ from 143 on Wednesday. The last sale at 144 left a net gain of one point and buyers were bidding 114¼ at the close.

EDUCATIONIST GIVES VIEWS OF CANADA

Sir Marchand Williams Is Greatly Impressed With Dominion's Vast Resources—Has Great Future Before It.

Sir Marchand Williams, the famous educationist who is well-known for his connection with all Welsh national movements, was interviewed at Quebec at the close of his tour across this country. Among other things he said:

"In the short time at my disposal I have not been able to examine in detail questions that are of deep interest to the public in regard to Canada; I have been able to take a general view of some of them. Having journeyed across this great country from coast to coast and having come in contact with a very large number of men who take an active part in the public life of the country, I must favorably admit that what has impressed me very much has been the courage, the faith, the foresight and especially also the enlightenment of the men who have taken so active and prominent a part in the development of Canada's resources. It is just possible that in some of the towns which I and my friends have visited the people have taken too large a stride, and that they are now, by force of circumstances obliged to stop and take breath. This is not exactly a fault; it is but the natural fault of the people living in a country that has no limits to its resources, that has a great future before it and has no past of blunders and disasters.

Elementary Schools

"Being particularly interested in education and being closely identified in the educational movement in all its branches in my own country, I naturally visited some of the public elementary and secondary schools of this country. It is possible that the best of the secondary schools are not up to the level of the best of the secondary schools in England and Wales; but the average of them are not inferior to those of my country. But as regards some of the public elementary schools which I visited, the buildings as regards internal arrangements and general equipment are far superior to anything of the kind in the United Kingdom.

"I regret that I was not able to see the children at work in the schools, as I was particularly anxious to ascertain, not only the method of teaching the ordinary subjects of distributing time and of organizing the schools generally, but also what importance is given in your schools to the training of children in good manners—of influencing, in a word, their moral character or conduct. I must come again for this purpose."

"Made-in-Britain" Train

LONDON, Oct. 2.—The Canadian Associated Press learns that the idea of running a made-in-Ireland train through Canada, to bring Irish manufactures before the notice of the Dominion, has been abandoned in favor of an exhibition train embracing the manufactures of every part of the United Kingdom. The scheme has been received favorably by the manufacturers' associations here, and the Canadian boards of trade have already extended a hearty welcome. Addresses will shortly be delivered in the industrial districts setting forth the scheme fully.

Lumbering in Saskatchewan

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., Oct. 2.—The lumber companies in this vicinity are calling for five hundred men to start preliminary lumbering operations for the Winter cut. Threshing and construction work, however, are keen competitors.

Dies While Dressing

PETERBORO, Ont., Oct. 2.—Ex-Mayor Robert McWhinney dropped dead while dressing yesterday.

Caution!

A MATTER OF POSTAGE

It has been brought to our attention that many persons who mail The Colonist to friends abroad put only a one cent stamp on the wrapper, the general impression being that one cent will pay the postage on a newspaper irrespective of its weight. This is a mistake. The ordinary daily issue of The Colonist requires two cents postage, and the Sunday edition three cents. Newspapers mailed with the postage insufficiently paid are not sent out by the Postoffice.

65c Self-Basting Roaster for 35c

These Self-Basting Roasters have become so well known and have found such favor among cooks and housewives that very little need be said here about them. The chief feature of these roasters is the fact that they are made with concave bottoms, which collect the rich natural meat juices directly under the roast; the heat turns these juices into steam, which condenses all over the surface of the meat or fowl and makes a perfect self-basting process. There is no danger of burning, as the bottoms are slightly raised from the oven. Needs absolutely no attention.
